Police, Posse Resuming Hunt For Woodsman

Darkness Halts Perilous Search For Slayer of Two Housewives

MISSION, B.C., June 24 (CP).—The Silver Hill killer was still at large late tonight and a 50-man posse searching these Fraser Valley backwoods for the fugitive, was temporarily called off the manhunt.

"We're at a blank wall now," said Provincial Police Inspector Alex MacDonald who is directing the perilous foot-by-foot hunt for Ivar Johnson, 70-year-old recluse farmer charged with the murder of two women neighbors.

GUARD HOMES

Ten police cars patrolled the Silver Hill area, seven miles west, and farmers guarded their homes with shotguns and hunting rifles. Inspector MacDonald said an intensified search would be resumed at dawn.

The grudge-crazed man fled to the woods Thursday after he had put the torch to his home and barns, and " is alleged, shot and killed his two neighbors.

Feud over a road allowance started the trouble, climaxed in the deaths of Mrs. Maria Lindberg, 68-year-old widow, and Mrs. George Barrett, 66-year-old farm wife and mother of three children.

Mrs. Lindberg died on a roadway near her home and Mrs. Barrett in her farmyard, a few feet from her home.

A twin-charge of murder was laid by police as the officers, reinforced by reserve army men and Legionnaires, started an intensive hunt of the Johnson farm.

An expert woodsman, the wanted man may have a hide-out, far back in the forest. He will not want for food; there is plenty of game, berries and water.

The farm is in the Silver Hill District, five miles northwest of here, and 45 miles east of Vancouver.

Miles of bushlands were combed by police and the volunteer posse before the hunt was concentrated on the Johnson farm.

Twenty-four hours after the slayings no trace of him had been found.

In the fear-ridden Silver Hill District, homes were under guard today, some women and children were evacuated to Mission, and the school was closed.

MAN ROAD BLOCKS

Police-manned road blocks kept the district clear of the curious. Only men engaged in the search were allowed beyond the police lines.

The police officers are armed with new repeater rifles, sidearms and tear gas.

Johnson is armed with a 30-30 rifle, and may be carrying a revolver, police reported. He is also known to have a good supply of ammunition.

Cloudburst Strands Housewives in Montreal

Doctors Threaten Health Plan Strike

British Medical Association Plans Action for More Pay

HARROGATE, Eng., June 24 (INS).—The powerful British Medical Association representing all 18,165 British physicians threatened tonight an imminent "strike" which would wreck the billion dollar nationalized health program.

Three hundred delegates at the opening of the B.M.A. annual meeting in Harrogate voted unanimously to organize a mass walkout from the Health Service unless the Labor Government complies soon with the doctors' demands for negotiations for increased pay.

Dr. H. Guy Dain, chairman of the B.M.A. Council, was cheered when he declared:

"The Government cannot be employers and judges at the same time. We are confronted with a dangerous situation such as was never anticipated."

ACCUSE BEVAN

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan was accused of delaying tactics to block the doctors' demand for negotiations on B.M.A. grievances.

The physicians now get a flat fee for every patient on their lists in the nationalized health program. They want a graduated scale, with much higher fees for the first thousand patients.

To do this would require an estimated extra $66,000,000 which would have to be made available by the Government to the central pool from which the doctors are paid.

The Health Ministry estimates that the doctors are earning an average of $9,540 yearly under the health service scheme which the B.M.A. entered under protest when it was started July 5, 1948.

This figure does not take into consideration, however, the overhead expenses of the physicians.

TWO REASONS

The physicians want a graduated payment scale for two main reasons. Some country doctors find that in the area they can cover there are not enough patients to give them a good living at the present flat fee rate.

Many city doctors believe their work suffers because they are assigned too many patients. They prefer to spend more time on fewer patients.

The doctors also complain of increased living costs and what they term a flood of "frivolous and unjustified emergency calls" by free-service patients."

$3.50 PER PATIENT

The doctors now receive roughly $3.50 for treatment of each patient. The B.M.A. wants a graduated scale to pay $7 per head on the first 1,000 patients.

For lists of more than 1,000 these demanded fees would vary from $5.30 for 2,000 patients to $4.40 for 4,000.

Health Minister Bevan was approached months ago by the B.M.A. representatives, and the B.M.A. resolution adopted tonight said further delay on negotiations will not be tolerated by the doctors. No deadline for a walk-out was set, however.

Truman Asks Increase In Mail Rate

WASHINGTON, June 24 (INS).—President Truman asked Congress today to boost postal rates to bring them "in line with the increased cost of postal operations."

The President sent a special message to Capitol Hill urging reorganization of the Post Office Department in line with some of the proposals made by the Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization.

Mr. Truman's recommendation for an upward revision of postal rates was emphasized along with a number of technical proposals for reorganizing the department.

SEES HUGE DEFICIT

The President said:

"The postal deficit for the fiscal year 1950, on the basis of current postal rates, would be more than $400,000,000. This deficit results primarily from the volume of postal business which is carried below postal costs.

"If the postal service is to be conducted on a businesslike basis, it is essential that postal rates be brought in line with the increased costs of postal operation.

"I again strongly urge, as I have in previous messages during the past two years, that the Congress enact an adequate revision of the postal rate structure."

Legislation to increase postal rates already is pending before Congress.

Miners in Asbestos To Continue Strike

ASBESTOS, Que., June 24 (CP).—Asbestos miners here tonight decided to continue their four-and-a-half-month-old strike although their co-strikers in Thetford mines are returning to work Monday.

The decision was announced by Jean Marchand, secretary of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor.

WON'T HIRE 20 MEN

The secretary of the C.C.C.L. said that 1,300 employees of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company Limited decided to continue the strike because the mining concern did not want to hire again "some 20 strikers, of which some are union leaders."

Mr. Marchand did not give the names of the union leaders, whom he said the company would not re-employ.

Mr. Marchand added that "about 100 scabs" were to be given priority by the company over the strikers.

The union leader said that this "question of reprisals" was the "only outstanding difference between the proposal of three companies at Thetford mines and that of the Johns-Manville."

THETFORD MINES, Que., June 24 (CP).—Resumption of operations in Quebec's serpentine belt, most important asbestos-producing district in the world, was in prospect today following an announcement that of the 5,000 miners, on strike since mid-February, are ready to go back to the pits Monday.

The announcement was made early this morning after a mass meeting of this asbestos mining town's striking workers.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

The 2,500 Thetford Mines workers decided "unanimously" to go back to their jobs without a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase that was part of their original strike demands. Their pre-strike basic wage was 85 cents an hour.

The terms they approved called for return to work Monday, restoration of their union's bargaining rights, no company obligation to re-engage men convicted of disorders, and arbitration of issues that cannot be settled by direct negotiation within ten days.

Men Returning To Freighters Hit by Strike

LONDON, June 24 (CP).—London dockers today returned to work on two Canadian freighters following mediation at Canada House, and a spokesman for the Canadian Seamen's Union said crews will go back to the ships, the Beaverbrae and the Argomont.

Intervention by Dana Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner to Britain and his staff may have prevented a major tie-up in the world's greatest port.

Sitting in on the discussions was Norman Robertson, clerk of the Privy Council in Canada who paid an unheralded flying visit to London. The former high commissioner has returned to Ottawa to give the Cabinet a first-hand report.

Mediation took place late Thursday when strike leader Bill Arland visited Canada House to present the proposals. Terms along the same lines are expected to end walkouts on two other Canadian ships in British ports, although the strike is still on in Canada.

The proposals Arland placed before Wilgress which shipping companies accepted, are:

1. No victimization;
2. All charges against crew members arising out of the strike are to be dropped;
3. The crews will return to the ships at the same wages and under the same conditions as before the strike;
4. The seamen are to return as C.S.U. members;
5. No crew members are to be forced to join the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

(In Montreal, Harry Davis, C.S.U. president, said a settlement has been worked out covering Canadian ships tied up in Britain, but the strike "will go on until such a settlement is agreed to for all Canadian ships.")

Report Drive Against Clerics

PRAGUE, June 24 (CP).—The Communist Government announced today that a strong new police campaign is under way in Hungary against Roman Catholic bishops and priests in Slovakia.

Church and diplomatic quarters already had reported that the Communists have been closing monasteries and arresting priests for weeks in that southern province, a stronghold of Roman Catholicism.

Archbishop Joseph Beran, now held incommunicado, is accused of being the leader of the clergy's opposition to state efforts to control or replace the church.

The Czecho-Slovak Government announcement said police action was taken against "reactionary" clerics for "creating disturbances."

Fights Feature Drew Meeting

BELLEVILLE, Ont., June 24 (CP).—Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew tonight ran into a noisy, boisterous election campaign meeting in which fist fights broke out and three men were carried from the hall with bloodied noses and bruised faces.

The fighting developed from heckling and booing in one section of the hall.

It began when some men in the audience tried to quiet the hecklers. An argument ensued and several fist fights broke out. The skirmishes ended with the three men being taken from the hall.

Reporters at the press table were agreed that the interruptions came from a group of about 25 in a crowd estimated at 2,500 or 3,000.

Suite, Bedroom Damaged In Oak Bay Roof Blaze

A roof fire, fanned by a 38-m.p.h. wind destroyed most of the roof of an Oak Bay residence, an attic suite and a bedroom, causing damage estimated at between $3,000 and $4,000 yesterday evening.

First report at 6:15 p.m. sent units of both the city and Oak Bay fire departments to 1010 Foul Bay Road, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langley, where the flames shooting flames 40 feet into the sky.

Besides the contents of the completely furnished suite and bedroom on the third floor of the large, white frame dwelling, two bedrooms and the bathroom on the second floor suffered heavy water and smoke damage.

Hundreds of valuable, classical volumes, owned and prized highly by Mr. Langley, stored row upon row in the attic, were also destroyed. Their exact worth is as yet undetermined.

BLAMED ON SPARKS

Madeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Langley, told The Colonist last night she believed the fire started from sparks from a small furnace fire fanned by the stiff wind.

Laurna, Madeline's sister, and Mr. Langley were sitting down to dinner when an unidentified person knocked on the door and announced:

"I don't want to alarm you—but your roof is on fire!"

Mrs. Langley left for Seattle yesterday afternoon for a holiday and is expected to return Sunday. The Langley family will be the guests of friends and neighbors for the next few days.

An Oak Bay fire official expressed appreciation at the co-operation of city firemen who played a prominent role in extinguishing the blaze.

Plan Moral Code For Film Industry

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 24 (INS).—The motion picture industry's czars will meet tomorrow at Indianapolis with independent exhibitors to consider a disciplinary program for stars who violate a proposed moral code.

Eric Johnston will confer with members of the Allied States Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors and hear a code advanced by Joseph P. Finneran, Columbus, Ind., theatre owner.

The code would ban any movie actors who "attained public notoriety" until satisfactorily cleared and would provide fines and suspensions for lesser offences.

Trueman Rembusch, also of Columbus and treasurer of Allied States, said a survey shows theatre-goers do not like excessive dialogue, depiction of crime, horror and brutality, costume pictures, drinking scenes, classical music and over-emphasis on sex.

Use of Chlorophyll in Toothpaste Prevents Tooth Decay Dentists Told

CHICAGO, June 24 (INS).—Dentists were told today that chlorophyll—the substance that gives grass its green color—may have ended the long search for a preventative for tooth decay.

Dr. Gustav W. Rapp, professor of biochemistry at Loyola University Dental School, Chicago, announced that a tooth paste containing chlorophyll does away with the conditions thought to lead to dental decay.

Dr. Rapp announced the results of an intensive research project before a meeting of the International Association for Dental Research, meeting in Chicago.

He said the tooth paste, green in color, proved to have a greater ability than any other known material to lower the acid count of the mouth and to prevent the formation of bacterial acids that attack the tooth surface.

Dr. Rapp said the tooth paste containing chlorophyll also retarded the breakdown of part of the protective tooth enamel through chemical action.

Chlorophyll is best known for its mysterious action in the process known as photosynthesis. This is the complicated and subtle chemical process in which green plants convert the energy of the sun's rays into stored food energy.

Science has never been able to break this process down and discover exactly how it works, but it has long been known that without chlorophyll neither plants nor animals (including humans) could live.

The tooth paste has been on the market since April, 1948, but has been sold only on the recommendation of dentists. It was prescribed for use in treating trench mouth because of its ability to speed the healing of gums.

Dr. Rapp's report stated the tooth paste also inhibits such bacteria as streptococci and staphiyococci aureous, another presumed cause of tooth decay. In addition, he said, the tooth paste did remarkably well on deodorizing the mouth and preventing the return of offensive odors.

Dr. Rapp and B. F. Gurney, his assistant, said that in their tests they found that two brushings a day with the chlorophyll tooth paste resulted in a negative count of the bacteria associated with tooth decay (lactobacillus acidophilus) in 26 per cent of the subjects within ten days.

He added that by the end of the fourth week of his study, 42 per cent of his subjects were free of the tooth decay bacteria and the number soared to 90 per cent by the end of the 20th week.

Dr. Rapp said that by contrast only 15 per cent of a control group of subjects who used the so-called "ammoniated" dentifrices were free of the bacteria at the end of six months.

Further studies of cholophyll, Dr. Rapp said, are under way to determine its usefulness in other branches of dentistry.

100 Men Battle Big Fire

VANCOUVER, WASH., June 24 (INS).—Fire destroyed the warehouse at the Maritime Commission's Vancouver shipyard and damaged another building tonight.

Flames leaped high in the air, and smoke was so dense that it registered on instruments at the Portland airport weather station, three miles away.

All Vancouver fire equipment and five engines from Portland, plus a Portland fireboat and an engine from McLoughlin Heights housing project on the edge of the city, fought the flames. About 100 firemen, in all, took part in the battle.

JUMPED TO ROOF

The fire jumped to the pipe shop, 75 or 80 feet from the warehouse, but firemen quenched it there. They were helped by a lull in wind that fanned the blaze earlier.

Maritime Commission guards kept out everybody but firemen and and forced newsmen to watch from several hundred yards away. The guards claimed that their orders have not changed since the war.

No estimate of the loss was available at once. The wooden building was about 400 by 200 feet and three stories high. Vancouver police expressed belief that considerable supplies were stored inside.

YARD IDLE

The shipyard was built by the Maritime Commission during the war and operated by the Kaiser Company, which built several score escort aircraft carriers and some other ships there. It has been idle most of the time since the war.

At the height of wartime activity, the yard hired more than 30,000 workers.

The origin of the blaze was not determined at once. The first alarm was received at 8:03 (PDT).

BULLETINS

Quake

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 24 (AP).—An earthquake described as "sharp" and lasting 1¾ minutes was recorded here at 6:12.54 p.m. (9:12.54 C.D.T.) today by Seismologist Fred Robinson. He said it was of "one plus" intensity and east-west direction.

To Visit U.S.

MUNICH, June 25 (Saturday) (Reuters).—A Bavarian supreme court judge investigating war-crimes charges against Ilse Koch will shortly go to the United States to interview persons who were interned in Buchenwald concentration camp during the time her husband was commandant there. Frau Koch is a former Buchenwald warden.

Five Men Burned

OTHELLO, Wash., June 24 (AP).—Five men were burned seriously late today fighting a sagebrush fire east of Othello. A special train took them to hospital at Ellensburg. Two of the men were on stretchers.

Berlin Strikers Ask Aid In Countering Blockade

BERLIN, June 24 (INS).—Russian officials blocked an American-supported attempt by rail strikers today to move inter-zonal traffic on an emergency basis in Berlin.

The angered strikers appealed tonight to the United Rail Workers' Union in Western Germany to impose a counter-blockade on trains in the Soviet zone to aid them in their fight with the Russians.

INCLINED TO COMPLY

Hans Jahn, president of the union of more than 400,000 members, said it was inclined to comply with the Berlin strikers' plea—if the Western Allied military governments do not object.

If such a development occurs, the entire East-West division in Germany will be right back where it was early "last month before the May 12 agreement that was supposed to have ended the Russian blockade of Berlin and the Allied counter-blockade of the Soviet zone.

Jahn said that an emergency session of the West German union council will convene Monday to decide on the plea by Berlin's anti-Communist rail strikers.

"The little blockade" of Berlin was prolonged today when the Russians ignored American official pleas that the strikers be allowed to move traffic.

The strikers said their stop-gap plan actually was to test if the Russians are in good faith when the Soviets insist they want an end to the strike.

The Soviet-controlled rail directorate did announce that a United States military passenger train stalled at Lichtenfelde, outside Berlin, would be allowed to proceed.

TRAIN STILL HALTED

But at a late hour tonight, three hours after the scheduled movement, the train was halted at that point and an American military government spokesman said "developments at this stage look like the old run-around."

Russian zone rail workers told the strikers who were ready to aid movement of the train that they do not have instructions to provide a locomotive.

Other trains bearing freight likewise remained "stalled" when the Russians refused to provide the necessary locomotives.

Wartime Powers Invoked In Face of Coal Strike

SYDNEY, Australia, June 24 (CP).—New South Wales tonight proclaimed wartime emergency powers in face of a country-wide coal strike set for Monday which both union and management say is "virtually impossible" to avoid.

Although representatives of the Communist-led Miners' Federation agreed on "certain proposals" to avert the walkout, a wide belief persists that the strike will take effect on schedule.

Drastic measures to save electricity and gas in New South Wales have crippled industry. The conservation measures have put 285,000 out of work with prospects of thousands more unemployed when the mines shut down.

NAMED CONTROLLER

G. H. Arnott, head of a biscuit firm, was appointed emergency food controller for New South Wales. He will have power to seize and distribute food if necessary.

Reg Windsor, emergency controller of transport and assistant commissioner of state railways, called a meeting of the wartime railroad transport pool. They discussed means of keeping essential supplies moving if railways are forced to close through lack of coal.

Union representatives and the Government-backed Coal Board discussed proposals to avert the walkout. They adjourned until tomorrow.

SHIPPING HIT

The miners are demanding a 30s ($4.85) weekly wage increase and reduction of the work week from 40 hours to 35. At present, weekly pay ranges from £8 to £10 10s.

Power houses have enough coal to keep going for three weeks providing electricity only for hospitals, water supplies and sewage disposal plants. By the time the strike starts, all homes in the Sydney area probably will be without power.

The coal famine has affected shipping. Sixteen ships are tied up in Sydney harbor because coal bunkers are empty.

Prime Minister Chifley told Parliament in Canberra that he has discussed what naval fuel-oil supplies may be used in an emergency.

Navy Tanker Runs Aground Near Golden Gate

Tugs and Coast Guard vessels churned the waters beneath the Golden Gate Bridge this week as they fought to free huge navy tanker Neches which went hard aground on sandy Presidio Shoal after straying a half-mile off course on entering San Francisco Bay. There were no casualties among the 120-man crew, and navy spokesmen said that damage to the ship was only slight. Faulty steering machinery was cited as the probable cause of the accident, and the ship was refloated on the flood tide.

Coplon States Russian Friend, Officials Engineered Frame-Up

WASHINGTON, June 24 (INS)—Judith Coplon ended her spy trial cross-examination today with repeated screams of "I've been framed" and the assertion that even Valentin Gubitchev, her Russian friend, might have been in the frame-up.

Miss Coplon said, however, she wasn't really sure that Gubitchev was in the "conspiracy."

The day shortly after cross-examination was concluded. Both sides stipulated that testimony of Miss Coplon's widowed mother would be incorporated into the record without calling her to the stand.

YELLED AT PROSECUTOR

Miss Coplon started screaming after Prosecutor John M. Kelley, who had grilled her for several days, at last said "That's all." Her voice rising to a crescendo, she yelled at Kelley for ten minutes. She cried:

"This whole case is so fishy it smells to high heaven."

The girl included Gubitchev, the Soviet engineer for whom she is alleged to have stolen U.S. secrets, in the "fishy" category. She said that Gubitchev left her to make a phone call only ten minutes before the F.B.I. arrested them in New York the night of March 4.

Miss Coplon included two of her ex-Justice Department bosses, Raymond Wheatty and William E. Foley, among those she accused of framing her. Wheatty is associated with the prosecution in the case.

Before this near-hysterical climax, Miss Coplon made a series of dramatic declarations. She said:

"I AM INNOCENT"

"I'm not a Communist and I've never been a Communist . . . my testimony is and always will be that I am innocent and have been framed . . .

"And God only knows how many decoys and frame-ups you have put into this case."

Miss Coplon charged that Foley, chief of the Justice Department's security section, told a "whole tissue of lies" on the stand. She said Foley was responsible for "planting" a document in her purse before she went to New York to meet Gubitchev. She rasped:

"If that isn't entrapment, I don't know what it is. If that isn't a frame-up, I don't know what it is."

Miss Coplon had a crack for Kelley, too. She told him:

"You came on the scene later, but you participated in asking me some of the lowest questions I ever heard."

EXPLAINS MICHAEL

Earlier, Miss Coplon explained reference to a mysterious "Michael" in notes found in her handbag when she was arrested. The notes said that she had described to "Michael" a "top secret report on Soviet and Communist activities in the United States."

"Michael," she asserted, was no Russian spy but just a fictional character in the semi-autobiographical novel she planned to write, detailing her experiences as a Government girl in Washington.

Miss Coplon also declared that biographical sketches on three persons, likewise among the purse papers, were just notes for the book. The Government charges that the data had to do with possible recruits for the Communist espionage system.

State Clerics, Bishop Held In Red Korea

SEOUL, June 24 (INS)—The Government of Communist-dominated North Korea was accused today of imprisoning a Catholic bishop and a number of other Catholic clergymen.

The charge was made by Bishop Patrick J. Byrne, the Pope's delegate to Korea.

He declared that the North Korean regime had put Bishop Francis Hong of Pyongyang into prison and also jailed his secular clergy and an unspecified number of "foreign missioners."

The Vatican envoy said in a letter to all South Korean Catholic dioceses that North Korea also placed in prison the secular clergy of the Benedictine Order near Wonsan, including The Most Reverend Boniface. The bishop declared:

"The North Korean regime is conducting the same open campaign against religious leaders that has so uniformly marked every Communist organization in Europe as essentially anti-Christ.

"Great numbers of Christians have fled from North Korea into South Korea . . . "because they were unable to endure the usual Communist tactics against Christianity.

"This latest Communist procedure in North Korea (referring to the jailings) weakens our faith no more than similar Communist 'successes' in Europe have weakened it."

Clay Predicts Long Fight For Freedom

DES MOINES, June 24 (INS)—The man who conceived the Berlin airlift told Americans tonight that war is not imminent, but that they may face a battle to the death with "forces which believe in state domination of the individual."

The warning marked the first public appearance of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former American commandant in Germany, since he was relieved from that post at his own request. Clay spoke in Des Moines at the closing ceremonies of the centennial observance of The Des Moines Register and Tribune.

FIRST REPORT

It was his first report on the Berlin airlift and the accomplishments of the German occupation.

While the man who won a major "battle" of the cold war declared he does not think war "is just around the corner" in the military sense, he did predict a long drawn-out battle of ideas.

"The struggle will continue, in various degrees of intensity, until the entire world is either free or in slavery," General Clay asserted.

He assured his audience that the forward march of Communism and state-domination of the people in Europe has been halted, and credited the combined forces of the United States, Great Britain and lesser countries which have joined the Big Three for the victory.

INVULNERABLE

General Clay added that "there is no need for war, and that the great strength and power of the United States makes it invulnerable to attack unless the attacker contemplates suicide."

"The conflict which goes on in the world today is not a conflict which can be solved by force of arms," he said.

"It is a conflict of ideas and basic beliefs. There is no reason why it should lead to war."

The general said he believed the battle of ideologies can be resolved "only when the people of the world who now have no access to information do have access to information."

Waited 29 Years, Finally Discharged

VANCOUVER, June 24 (CP)—Albert Molyneaux is out of the army at last.

The postman today brought Molyneaux's Great War discharge certificate — just 29 years after he left the army.

Postmarked "March 15, 1920," the cardboard tube need four cents more postage before it could be delivered.

The Post Office can't explain what happened but deduced that "something went wrong."

Strange Fish Identified "Positively"

The strange fish caught at Witty's Lagoon Thursday evening has been identified—and positively.

And all the theories expressed by a commercial fisherman and more than a dozen anglers proved wrong.

Here are some of the more common classifications of the four-foot fish caught by hand by a member of the Provincial Department of Health:

Dogfish, King of the Salmon (the more common theory), Wolf Eel, Bullhead, "Swordless Sailfish," and a quipster's judgment "A two-day-old baby of Caddy's."

OFFICIAL TITLE

The Department of Fisheries says it's an Alepisaurus Borealis (not to be confused with Aurora Borealis).

The English translation reads: Hand Saw Fish.

A Provincial Museum authority reports that only a few specimens of this fish have been taken in British Columbia waters and most were washed up on the shores in a dying condition.

A fisheries spokesman states the first Hand Saw Fish was caught in September, 1896, by T. B. Norgate.

They are a deepsea fish and usually swim about in 140 to 170 fathoms of ocean. They feed on quid and herring, but are caught occasionally on salmon and halibut tackle.

BROUGHT TO COLONIST

Two members of the Provincial Department of Health brought Thursday evening's catch to The Colonist newsroom to ask the question: "What is it?"

When they left the office they left it behind them.

If anyone catches any of the two following described fish they should refer to the June 25 edition of The Colonist and avoid further confusion in the newsroom.

Hand Saw Fish: About four feet in length, pointed nose with a forked tail, a cylindrical body with no scales, a prominent dorsal fin standing about six inches high and stretching most of its length, and teeth more than an inch long.

King of Salmon: From five to six feet in length, silver in color, dorsal fin running the full length of the body, no fins underneath the body and two small fins above the gills. The tail is very small for the body which is flat.

CHEQUE LOST

A $600 cheque payable to either Mr. or Mrs. H. G. Seager, 1156 Heald Avenue, who lost downtown yesterday by Mrs. Seager, according to city police reports.

ANNUAL MEETING

Girl, 12, Hurt While at Play

Twelve-year-old Helen Schaefer, 1156 May Street, suffered minor leg injuries at noon yesterday when she fell through a sidewalk manhole cover at Thurlow and Brooke Streets.

She is in "very good" condition at St. Joseph's Hospital according to hospital authorities.

Miss C. F. M. MacNab, a teacher at Sir James Douglas School, told city police Helen was playing baseball in the Brooke Street Park. She chased a ball and stepped on the cover and fell through, the report stated.

Tree Felled, Home Damaged As City Hit by High Winds

Winds averaging 40 to 44 m.p.h., with gusts up to 48 m.p.h., yesterday afternoon and evening buffeted pedestrians, blew down a tree, caused shipping problems, made several small fires bigger and destroyed the roof of an Oak Bay residence.

Hardest hit was Harry Langley of 1010 Foul Bay Road whose roof, an attic suite, a bedroom, a valuable collection of books were destroyed in a fire at 6:15 p.m. causing damage estimated between $3,000 and $4,000.

A Victoria landmark, a Gary oak in the Rose Garden at Beacon Hill Park was bowled over at the height of the stiff winds.

TUGS AID VESSELS

The S.S. Princess Patricia required the aid of two harbor tugs as she left the docks en route to Vancouver.

anchor off Royal Roads were reported to have dragged anchor for a short while.

Warning of the wind had been received well in advance and those with small boats moored about the area apparently took adequate precautions.

Quick action by Saanich firemen confined a roaring fire to portions of the living quarters, storeroom and roof of the Parkview Greenhouse, Santa Rosa Avenue, also blamed on the high winds.

Belgians Vote On Royalty

BRUSSELS, June 24 (Reuters)—What has come to be known as "the Royal question" is the main issue Belgians will decide when they vote June 26 in their second postwar general election.

The Royal question—whether the provisionally-exiled King Leopold III shall return to the throne—has split the country into two hostile camps for the last five years.

The outcome of Sunday's polling will decide whether King Leopold is to resume his reign interrupted by German occupation of the country in the World War or whether he shall step down in favor of his 18-year-old son and heir, Prince Baudouin, Duke of Brabant.

Upon the election results will also depend to some extent whether the country's foreign policy will continue to be directed by the present Socialist Prime Minister and Foreign Minister, Paul-Henri Spaak.

Belgian women will be going to the polls for the first time in a general election. Hitherto, while eligible as members of both houses of Parliament, they could vote only in local elections.

A new law, passed earlier this year, gave them full voting rights.

Leg Broken

Edward M. Webb, 635 Harbinger Avenue, suffered a broken left leg at 5:35 p.m. yesterday when the motorcycle he was riding was in collision with a car at the corner of Harbinger and Richardson Street.

He is in "good" condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

City police reported Webb was proceeding north on Harbinger and turning west on Richardson when in collision with a car driven east on Richardson by Grant S. Monahan, Victoria.

Monahan's car was impounded lacking insurance.

Own Furniture Misses Sales Tax

Persons moving to British Columbia from outside the province need not pay sales tax on their household goods and equipment if they are brought into the province within six months after they move here.

This addition to the 3 per cent sales tax regulations was set forth in the British Columbia Gazette yesterday.

Another regulation provides that if a car is sold to a non-resident of British Columbia and taken out of the province within 30 days, the tax can be refunded.

LIBERAL HON. C. G. POWER Said:

(31 years a Member, 9 years Liberal Cabinet Minister)

"Without the existence of an almost all-powerful bureaucracy, it is unlikely that we would have had budget by radio, restraint of trade by embargoes and prohibitions, bungling of freight rates, and a snarling of interprovincial relations . . . From the ideology of the CCF we have lifted the worship of bureaucratic controls leaving Parliament little more than the role of a debating society, controlled from outside, not by the people who elect its members, but by minor tsars and petty dictators."

Prime Minister St. Laurent, why abuse George Drew?

The Prime Minister is deliberately abusing George Drew by misquoting, exaggerating and making unfounded statements. May we remind him of the words and wisdom of Sir John A. Macdonald, "You will find the most sticks and stones under the best apple tree."

Forde Convicted of Knife Assault As Court Rejects Accident Defence

Frank Forde, 50 Government Street, was found guilty of assaulting and wounding John White with an eight-inch butcher knife at a party last June 5 when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court, yesterday.

He was remanded until today for sentence.

Participants in the party, called as Crown witnesses, filed into the witness box to say it was all an accident. White's foot-thick wound, piercing through to the other side of his forearm, witnesses asserted, was caused when he sought to break up an argument between Forde and Andrew C. Thomas, 832 Dunsmuir Road.

TELLS OF DRINKING

The victim, now living at the scene of the party with Forde and his wife until his wound is healed, told Magistrate Hall he recalled a night of heavy drinking.

He said he sought to break up the argument between Forde and Thomas "when I felt a knife in my arm."

"Then I fell on top of a settee. I passed out."

Asked by W. A. Brethour, counsel for Forde, if he was deliberately stabbed, White replied: "No."

Constable John Deans Blackstock told of finding the victim lying on the floor in a pool of blood. Later, he said, he found the carving-knife outside the house. He estimated the wound would have required a knife-plunge of considerable force.

POINTED WITH KNIFE

Other Crown witnesses told how Forde was pointing at Thomas with a knife, telling him to sit down. They said White approached, waving his arms, when his arm was impaled on the knife.

C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, rejected evidence pointed up by Mr. Brethour, who said: "White just got in the way of the knife."

"As far as I'm concerned I've never heard such nonsense in my life," Mr. Harrison said.

"I submit that he was threatening someone and injured another party. That makes him just as guilty. If there had been intent, this man could be sent to jail for life," Mr. Harrison added.

In finding Forde guilty, Magistrate Hall said he could not accept the explanation the witnesses gave.

"The evidence of Constable Blackstock was that it took considerable force to inflict the wound," he said.

ORDERS REMAND

Magistrate Hall earlier yesterday again remanded Lyle Adam Maitland, this time until today, for the result of his preliminary hearing on a forgery charge.

The magistrate said he had some difficulty over the evidence of Crown witnesses and said he noted one witness had fixed Maitland's arrival in Victoria after store closing hours on the day he is accused of cashing a $170.77 cheque by endorsing the name of J. W. Morris in the Hudson's Bay Company.

Mr. Harrison said he felt the case should go before a jury, pointing out that a jury might choose not to believe that witness, but to believe the evidence of a handwriting expert who testified Wednesday that Maitland's writing and the writing on the forged cheque was written by the same man.

James J. Proudfoot, counsel for Maitland, argued there was not enough evidence to commit his client for trial.

He said there was no evidence the Department of Public Works cheque to Morris had ever left Kamloops, no evidence of anyone who saw, or could remember Maitland cashing it.

"The only evidence is the opinion of a handwriting expert who says the signatures were probably written by the same hand," Mr. Proudfoot said.

DRIVING CHARGE

Percy W. Brown, 706 Blanshard Street, appeared in court charged with careless driving in relation to an accident Thursday night at the intersection of Government and Yates Streets.

He entered a plea of not guilty and was remanded until Tuesday for trial.

Patrick D. Steele, 827 Pandora Street, was fined $50 or 15 days when he pleaded guilty to driving a car the day after his driver's licence had been suspended.

An Indian girl was sentenced to a month in jail when Magistrate Hall noted that she was appearing on a charge of being intoxicated in public for the sixth time this month.

The same girl, hailed into court Wednesday morning, had been remanded on her own recognizance, to give her a chance to catch a Port Angeles boat she told the court would take her to her parents.

"There are extenuating circumstances here," Magistrate Hall declared in passing a suspension of one month on the driver's licence of John H. Castle, Duncan, who was last week sentenced to seven days in jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

He said he would grant the short suspension of licence if Castle agreed to confine his driving to business for the next six months. Castle agreed.

"On Run"---to Ottawa, Says Cameron

Beneath a handsome portrait of National Leader George Drew, Progressive Conservatives, the new and the old, gathered last night in the Sirocco Club to hear the last big rally cry before the elections Monday.

In his final speech before the big day, Gordon A. Cameron, P.C. candidate for the Victoria riding, whipped quickly through an enumeration of the party's pledges to the people of Canada.

"We're accused in some quarters of being on the run," he said, after concluding his summary. "Well, we're running—right to Ottawa."

Previously he had attacked the Government's "proposed" $10 a month increase in the old age pension.

"It's still up in the rafters," he commented.

"At any rate it wouldn't be of benefit to anyone unless the Government also allowed an annual income of $840 instead of the present $720," he added.

SAID "TRIGGER-HAPPY"

"The Liberals have a trigger-happy policy on the expenditure of public funds," General Pearkes stated.

by Mr. Cameron—the banning of crime comics in Canada.

ALREADY BANNED

The admission of such comics is already banned, he remarked, "but we have not the power to prevent them being printed in Canada."

"Most of them are printed in Toronto, the Good,' and the only man who could stop them being printed in Ontario was Mr. Drew."

Provincial election results told "crackpot" Socialists that "we didn't want to trifle with their theories," declared George Gregory, speaking in support of Mr. Mayhew.

The vote of the C.C.F. provincial council against the North Atlantic Pact, Easter Sunday, "while you and I were in church," indicates that the C.C.F. Party is "Communist-inspired and Communist-led."

"There is no question that the Communists have control of the C.C.F.," he said.

There was no question of graft, he emphasized.

"But they are becoming amazingly callous about spending the people's money."

Many industries in Canada are feeling the loss of United Kingdom and Commonwealth markets, the Nanaimo candidate stated.

"Farmers are looking to George Drew to recapture primary markets," he said. "And around Cowichan in my own constituency, logging interests are becoming concerned about the loss of markets."

"Lumber orders from the United Kingdom today are less than half what they were two years ago.

"Growers here are worried about the market for berries, and tons of potatoes were never shipped from New Brunswick because of the loss of the United States market," he added.

WEST WALTON, Norfolk, England (CP)—Villagers drank ginger beer instead of water during a drought.

Pensions Policy of P.C.'s Little Strange to Mayhew

Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate for Victoria, finds it "a little strange" to hear Progressive Conservatives claiming the policy of contributory old age pensions as their own "and making it one of the main planks in their platform."

"I was the first person to say in the House that we should have contributory superannuation for all at the age of 65," he told a meeting at Britannia Legion Branch Auditorium last night.

"I said this in 1937 and my speech will be found in Hansard."

UP TO PROVINCES

Under present arrangements, Mr. Mayhew continued, the whole administration of the Pensions Act is in the hands of Provincial Governments.

The Dominion Government pays three-quarters of the $40 a month pension and the province the remainder.

"This arrangement is probably not the best."

However, he quoted a recent statement by Prime Minister St. Laurent indicating that the aim of the Liberal Government is to bring about Federal administration of pensions "as a remedy against differences of treatment from province to province."

This would also be "a first necessary step towards an over-all contributory scheme."

LIBERAL POLICY

The bringing in of such a plan is a Liberal policy, Mr. Mayhew said.

It would result in elimination of the means test" exactly as the means test is eliminated in the matter of family allowances."

"I have not changed my opinion of 12 years ago," he declared.

Referring to recent suggestions by Progressive Conservative candidate Gordon Cameron that Federal educational grants could be paid out of surpluses, Mr. Mayhew said that the British North America Act "makes it quite clear that the responsibility for education is invested in the Provincial Government."

Further, surpluses in Dominion as well as provincial financing are "quite rare" and would not be "very dependable" sources for the support of the educational system.

Mr. Mayhew touched briefly on another point recently mentioned

Good Work of City Lions Club Moves Into Two New Fields

The good work of the Victoria Lions Club goes on.

Yesterday the ambitious service club voted unanimously in favor of providing $155 to a city student whose hearing requires a mechanical aid. Within a few minutes the club also voted in favor of sponsoring a cabin at Sunshine Camp at Sooke, and immediately made $150 available for the furnishing and maintenance of the cottage.

The Empress Hotel luncheon meeting was a business session only, and void of a guest speaker.

President Clarence Johns announced that "Blue Baby Billy" would undergo his first operation July 2 at a city hospital. This youngster is the third "blue baby" case undertaken by the Lions Club of this city.

Annual installation banquet of the organization will be held at the Windermere Hotel next Wednesday night, starting at 6:30. The annual picnic will be staged at the Experimental Farm on July 31 and members of the Renton Lions Club will be present.

A series of reports on a recent district convention held at Seattle was presented by George Thackery, President-Elect E. A. Estlin, Jack Fuller and Secretary Arthur Cann.

It All Comes Out of the Same Pocket

DEAN Clement, of the University of British Columbia, somewhat surprised economic and political circles this week by proposing for Canada a scheme of farm production subsidies similar to the Brannan Plan on which President Truman's farm policy is founded. Reduced to its simplest terms, the suggestion made by the head of the University's Faculty of Agriculture aims at maintenance of low prices to the consumer and fair returns to the farmer by means of "compensation"—in other words, state subsidies.

Theoretically under such a price support plan the farmer could never lose anything—anything, that is, save his freedom to farm as he chooses. Experience teaches, and reasoning should show, that the concomitant of state benevolence towards any producer group is state control. The Brannan Plan in fact makes no secret of its intention to dominate the industry in the United States, even to the extent of imposing heavy penalties on those who in one year market produce beyond a certain value.

To the consumer, proponents of subsidies offer the myth of low prices. They are a myth because the purchaser who is able to buy goods for what appear to be low prices and the taxpayer who foots the bill for compensation to the producer to make those prices possible is one and the same person. Reversing the popular saying, what he makes on the swings he loses on the roundabouts. It is idle to suggest that it can be otherwise, for the state's only source of money for subsidies is the taxpayer's pocket.

In Great Britain governmental interference with economic laws is resulting in the wage-earner being bled to hold prices down to an artificial level, under a system that at the same time removes individual and corporate incentive. Canada has been shown this example, and it is to be hoped that the Dominion will not be coaxed into following it. Farm subsidies would be only the thin end of the wedge.

Their Only Horizon Is Blue Ruin

IF ever wish was father to the thought it may be found in the utterances of C.C.F. speakers in the current Federal election campaign. Almost without exception they paint a picture of dire economic happenings lurking just around the corner for Canadians. In the midst of as strong a national economy as any nation has to offer at the present time, no matter how favorable or unfavorable the postwar trends, all they can see is disaster ahead. One gets the impression they would welcome hard times.

The local C.C.F. candidate adheres to the same pattern, which obviously is a set piece for all spokesmen of C.C.F. philosophy. He speaks with a certainty which permits of no other logic. World economists of authority find it difficult to foresee precisely the course that national or international events will take, but the C.C.F. candidate in Victoria has no doubts. This country, according to him, has actually entered a period of depression.

The word depression seems to be the governing factor in all C.C.F. thinking. All hopes of being elected to power are apparently centred on its repetition. It is a queer democratic aim that expects to profit through the hardships of the people, yet presumably there is nothing the C.C.F. would like better than an upset in the present prosperous state of the nation. The unanimity of C.C.F. utterance is proof enough that theirs is a party that looks forward to thriving on disaster. Their only horizon is blue ruin.

John Cabot and the Good Ship Mathew

THE "Newfoundland" dollars from the Canadian mint were in circulation in Victoria yesterday, in tribute like the four-cent stamp to the blossoming of Canada's Confederation by the addition of The Ancient Colony as the tenth province. The silver coin left Cabot's ship unnamed, avoiding the controversy which had arisen over its name, the Mathew, or Matthew as in the stamp. The occasion and its significance were the same, for Canada this year is writing history.

John Cabot, a Genoese compatriot of Christopher Columbus, was a Fifteenth Century explorer who in 1461 moved to Venice, and in or about 1484 to London where later he was to find backing for his North American venture. There was at that time some little trade between Iceland and the British Isles, but the western seas beyond were largely unknown. In 1497 Cabot, with a crew of 18 men, set sail from Bristol, England, and after 52 arduous days at sea touched at the shores of North America. He died in the following year, among the world's successful navigators.

Much has happened in the 452 years since Cabot set foot on the eastern seaboard of this continent. The event which the coins and the stamp jointly mark began with the birth of Confederation nearly 82 years ago, and reached its consummation only this year with the full entry of Newfoundland and Labrador into the Union. Men of vision guided Canada in 1867, and something of that vision lives again for this country with the rounding out of the long-cherished dream. Nor has this peaceful growth and development the shadow of a threat for the weal of the world.

MORE BACKBONE

Sir,—Mr. Arthur Warren's suggested prescription of "Faith" in your issue of June 22 as a remedy to prevent the alarming increase of cases of mental illness would, I fear, not be effective. We have had plenty of faith, plenty of resignation, and plenty of supine submission to wrongful and unnecessarily harsh living conditions. What we need now is not more inaction, not more supine indifference, but the intelligent application of scientific knowledge we already possess, and the determination to meet whatever need there may be to stop this increase.

CONVERTIBLE POUND

Sir,—Mr. Drew advertises that "the Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to open negotiations for the purpose of making the dollar and the pound convertible, etc."

This can mean anything. If it means that the pound will bring less in Canadian dollars, then thousands of people in this country will be ruined, and future immigration and investment from sterling areas will be checked.

If, on the other hand, it is the intention of the Conservatives to place Canada in the sterling area and raise the purchasing value of the pound, they will automatically receive the enthusiastic support of many voters.

The Conservatives blame the Liberals for putting Canada under the financial control of American interests, yet were they not a party to the Bretton Woods Agreement, which struck such a vital blow to British preferential trade? Similarly, we have the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund and allied measures which have brought Great Britain to her knees and imposed upon her what is being recognized as a hopeless task—the finding of adequate export markets to provide her with dollars.

The Conservatives have made an election issue of convertibility and, I think, rightly so, because behind convertibility lies the larger issue of national economic survival, not only for ourselves but for Great Britain. The Conservatives, therefore, owe it to the electorate to make a definite statement of the end they seek to achieve by their proposed negotiations, otherwise they will lose the support of many voters who prefer the devil they know to the one they don't.

POLLUTED BEACHES

Sir,—I am pleased to see a wider interest and some possibility of action regarding the condition of the waters around our shores. When one loves children, we are anxious to protect them from avoidable exposure to ill-health, suffering and handicaps which multiply soon enough.

A conspicuous effect of the debate, wrangling and quarrels of many of our governing bodies is that a positive spirit of resentment and hostility exists toward any citizen who approaches them with any suggestions or criticism.

I would warn the public about the children playing in the sand of many of the beaches, apart from going into the water.

An inspection by a competent person shows that much of the sand and mud flats on our shores are impregnated to the saturation point with contamination from polluted water over a long period. Anyone may satisfy themselves on this point by simply disturbing the top inch or two of wet sand with a stick. If it has the filthy black color familiar to sanitary engineers, the condition is longstanding and dangerous.

Parents allowing children to play in any sand covered by the tide daily, should wash their hands at a tap if available before they eat food. Parents themselves should turn on the taps while a child washes . . .

Young and Old

When all the world is young, lad,
And all the trees are green;
And every goose a swan, lad,
And every lass a queen;
Then hey for boot and horse, lad,
And round the world away;
Young blood must have its course, lad,
And every dog his day.

When all the world is old, lad,
And all the trees are brown;
And all the sport is stale, lad,
And all the wheels run down;
Creep home, and take your place there,
The spent and maimed among:
God grant you find one face there,
You loved when all was young.

—CHARLES KINGSLEY.

And Canada?

By FRANK M. KELLEY

APPEARING in Coast papers a few days ago, an Associated Press story from Washington, D.C., stated that a report before President Truman indicated the United States could lose Alaska by default to the United Nations under certain circumstances. The report was presented by Secretary of the Interior Krug.

The press story quoted the secretary as stating, "It is quite conceivable that sometime in the future the United Nations might demand more equitable division of the unpopulated and potentially rich regions of the globe. Therefore, the United States is faced with a problem: Who will develop Alaska? Will it be Americans or will it be the land-hungry people of devastated Europe or the overcrowded Orient? Today Alaska belongs to the United States; tomorrow it could belong to the world."

Secretary Krug must have some good grounds for presuming such a possibility. There must have been something more than just a desire to say something which might appear important, stemming as it seems to have done from his own observations as well as being the considered opinion of his colleagues in the Interior Department.

NO SECRET EXPRESSED

There is no secret in the expressed hopes of multitudes in many lands that the United Nations will become the dominant power in world affairs if it remains true to the concept of its origin in San Francisco a few years since. Anything might happen if the organization attains the power to initiate world courts and provide the necessary agencies to make their administration effective.

Secretary Krug's report to the President, evidently anticipating what might happen at some future time, was undoubtedly meant to be timely. It should be timely for Canadians, too. As Northwest Canada adjoins Alaska, if or when the United Nations attempts to establish landless folk in areas which have been banned to migrants its undeveloped acres cannot very well be overlooked, are not liable to be.

These matters of surplus populations and vacant lands have always been the cause of more conflicts, according to competent authorities, than all other motives peculiar to humanity combined. Much criticism, too, has been levelled against the British Empire, particularly, for the so-called "dog-in-the-manger" policy Canada and Australia adopted a long time ago and which still pertains to their unsettled lands. All of which implies Secretary Krug's concern over Alaska ought to receive due consideration from Canadians as well.

AMONG THE FIRST

Granting the assumptions of Mr. Krug to be correct (it can be appreciated they are not based on imaginary premises), one cannot help but wonder what will happen to the non-developed areas of all Northern Canada. If mass migration is ever projected through the United Nations, wouldn't it be logical to imagine those areas would be among the first to be considered?

Our own British Columbia, so it is fairly well known, has considerable vacant land which might support a lot more people than are in evidence at present. If the United Nations ever does with Alaska what the U.S. Secretary of the Interior fears it may do at some future time, what will prevent the organization from taking similar action in British Columbia?

With such a possibility in days to come would it not be politic to people the northern areas of the Province, the Queen Charlotte Islands and Vancouver Island with preferred immigrants than wait for such folk as the United Nations might consider suitable?

Varga's Recantation

By RAYMOND MOLEY

NEW YORK.—From time to time over the past five years there have been noted in this column the ideas and writings of Dr. Eugen S. Varga, Soviet economist. For a long time Varga dominated the economic soothsayers of the Kremlin and provided facts and figures for the politicians. In the middle of the war, it was Varga who announced the reparations terms that later were presented officially by Molotov. After the war, Varga wrote a book that corrected some of the Marxian dogma about the decline of capitalism.

As I understood it, he said, rather bluntly, that we were not necessarily headed for disaster and that capitalism still had some life left in its decadent bones. Soon after this heresy appeared a great hullabaloo arose among Soviet economic wizards, and a grand inquisition was held. This was a meeting of the Learned Council of the Economic Institute of the Soviet Academy of Sciences. What went on suggested the convocation of hair-splitting at the trial of Galileo. The result was a partial unfrocking of High-Priest Varga who, like Galileo, recanted his errors.

Some of the tongue that must have been in his cheek on that occasion now appears in his new article, which is translated into English in the Current Digest of the Soviet Union. Varga sticks to his facts but repudiates his interpretations. These interpretations follow the Soviet decision to root out "cosmopolitanism," "objectivism" and "apoliticalism." He says that perhaps he has been a little too "cosmopolitan," whatever he means by that.

He says, further, that his idea that Communists should collaborate in reconstruction abroad was a mistake. Communists who did so and joined governments where reconstruction was going on found that, despite their influence, the bourgeois framework of such states remained. And when those who thus collaborated tried to take over, they were pitched out of office into the streets or into jail. This seems to have caused Varga to believe that other tactics were in order.

The major aim, he seems to believe now, is Soviet "imperialistic" expansion" in the economic field. Presumably, this means to build better mouse traps in Russia and sell them to satellite states.

He notes that the Marshall Plan is having its effect in Western Europe and that it must be recognized. To further this recognition he plans to write another book telling how Russia can take these new forces into account and still further Communist revolutionary purposes.

It is quite apparent that Varga sees that he can stay out of a concentration camp only by sliding into language that few Westerners and probably few Russians can understand. In any event, it is possible that by the time his next book is written Western Europe will be well on the way to rehabilitation.

All that we need note in the new Varga thesis is that the Soviets have decided that they cannot take over in Western Europe, but that they intend to continue to annoy us with spies and propaganda. The purpose of these activities apparently is not to take over Government, here or anywhere else, but to divert our attention from our own economic development. Perhaps if we continue our preoccupation with such matters, we will be doing exactly what they want us to do.

Far and Near

(From The Times, London)

SOME day, no doubt, we shall all be able to travel so far and so fast that going and coming and staying in the same place will all be much the same thing and no one will bother any longer to go anywhere. The more thoroughly this planet is explored by our indefatigable geographers and authors and radio commentators and camera-men the more unnecessary it becomes for the anchorites of our teeming cities to travel any farther than the library or the wireless set or the cinema. And this need sadden no one unduly, for not only does it add a lot of interest and color to the lives of stay-at-homes, but it curiously increases the numbers of those who desire to make, and frequently succeed in making, the "unnecessary" journeys aforesaid.

This double-barrelled effect will certainly be achieved by Act I, Scene 1, in the coming Colonial Exhibition in London. "Visitors, entering through a typical African hut . . . will find themselves in the moist heat of the West African jungle." Temperature and humidity "are being arranged" to give the public a warm reception. This double exposure of truth to the visitor and the visitor to the elements should be both convenient and convincing. The hobbled reader of humid travelers' tales at last will have some check on his garrulous guides. Perspiring freely but properly primed, he will emerge from his afternoon call in the jungle with a new respect for Novelist "A," who really has created the authentic atmosphere, and with a confirmed contempt for Scribbler "B", whose meteorology has proved as mixed as his metaphors.

All this he will have gained within a spear's throw of the Marble Arch, in laboratory conditions, and without any uncomfortable field work among thoughtless carnivora. The advantages are obvious—but the bolder and probably younger visitor, with a well-developed Columbus complex and a proper spirit of adventure, will happily be blind to them.

Les Finnegan, writing in the Socialist Call, gives the ending of the story: "Fact of the matter, of course," he says, "is that both men were caught, and had to go back."

Observation Car: By G. B.

TIME stands still in the Provincial Government land registry office at the Courthouse, according to a Fairfield resident. By dint of ten years' scrimping and saving, the man in question saved enough to pay off his National Housing Act mortgage. He waited three weeks to receive a release from Ottawa, and then took the document to the land registry office so the mortgage could be marked paid on the title to his property. He was told to pay $2.50, and return in a day or two. After waiting six days, he visited the office again. A clerk informed him the mortgage had not gone through the books, and a postcard would be sent to him in due course. He gazed at the office staff of 30 men, made a mental note that the record involved little more than a single line of typewriting on the deed, and commented to the clerk: "I wonder how so many can take so long to do so little." He left the office with half a dozen frosty stares boring into his back . . . Those who like tart pickles have a hard job to buy them. Practically all the Eastern pickle works seem to think that both the mustard and plain varieties must be compounded with liberal quantities of sugar. When sugar was rigidly rationed during the war, it was practically impossible to purchase sour pickles, but small quantities of the sweet kind were generally on sale. Sugar was apparently available in large quantities to pickle works. Many United States canneries which put up grapefruit and orange juice also think it is necessary to load the mixture with sugar. The result is a somewhat sickly tasting concoction . . . A Newark, New Jersey, judge quoted the following horrible examples of murdering the King's English: "In these cases such as these, in so far as my sworn duty, I shall prosecute. These cases to the last breath of my dying body which I am prosecuting only for the sake of justice and not for vengeance." "That in a kernel is the gist of what this case is concerning."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

HOW is this for a proposition: those of us who can get away into the country pretty well any time we please should stay off the highways on public holidays?

That there are tens of thousands who are free to get away to Summer cottage or Summer resort on week-ends all the way from early May to November is evident on the highways each week from Friday afternoon to Sunday night. These are doctors, lawyers and other professional people who control their own working time. There are also increasing numbers of business people who close up shop Friday, especially during the Summer months.

But for the vast multitude, public holidays are still the rare and precious hours of escape. People who do not take any other holidays are free on public holidays to pack their families in the cars and head for the distant holiday places. Each year these occasions become grimmer. The highways congest, traffic slows down, the accident hazard multiplies; and in general the holiday is in some measure marred for those to whom it was dedicated.

If, out of one of the big cities, there are 20,000 people who enjoy the week-end habit pretty well from May to November, then there are 20,000 who could possibly be persuaded to adopt the convention of staying off the highways on public holidays. Their absence would be a wonderful help.

Especially since, among these regular week-enders, is a majority of those slick and masterful drivers who take a personal pleasure in beating the traffic. They are the ones who keep darting in and out of traffic, to gain three or four car lengths, and in so doing create those terribly tiresome changes of pace in traffic, due to somebody always having to slow down and let them nick back in . . .

Nice people, these regular week-enders. But they ought to stay home on holidays—Canada Wide Feature Service Ltd.

Halley's comet, which put on such a brilliant show in the heavens in 1910, will be visible to the naked eye again on a return visit in 1986. It had a tail about 18 miles long when it swept near the earth in 1910.

U.S. Diplomat Asserts Russia Ready for Truce

John Foster Dulles, American delegate to the recent Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in Paris, says the Soviets demonstrated a desire to stabilize the present balance between East and West.—For the time being at least. The veteran diplomat and Republican adviser on foreign affairs explains in the following signed article that the Soviets thus seek to devote their full energies to deal with "Titoism" and the Far East.

By JOHN FOSTER DULLES
(Written expressly for International News Special Service)

As I have sat through the Paris session of the Council of Foreign Ministers, my belief has grown that Soviet leaders do not now want a war with us.

It seems as though they were willing, for the time being at least, to stabilize the present balance between East and West in Europe while they deal with two problems which to them are more important, namely "Titoism" and the Far East.

TITO FIRST PROBLEM

"Titoism" is, I suspect, their number one problem. It shows up a great weakness in the present brand of Communism, which is insistence upon absolute conformity to a pattern made in Russia. That does not work in areas where the economic and social problems are different from those in Russia and where there are deep-seated national and cultural loyalties.

The Far East affords a greater opportunity for dynamic expansion than does Western Europe, and probably the Politburo want to concentrate its best brains upon that.

The situation is not one which justifies complacency on our part, but it does suggest that, while maintaining a high state of military preparation, we can think more in terms of social and economic competition with Communism and less in terms of a military struggle.

Oddities

BURTON-ON-TRENT, England, June 24 (CP).—Frank Mullins could not resist taking a bite out of a mutton chop he encountered in a home he broke into.

Police took a plaster cast of the half-eaten chop. Mullins, 22, held as a suspect, agreed to let a dentist make a wax impression of his tooth marks.

In court, Dentist Bertram Street used a magnifying glass to show that none but Mullins could have bitten the chop. Mullins went to jail for 18 months.

CORONATION, Alta., June 24 (CP).—At least two farmers of this east-central district of Alberta aren't sharing any of the optimism usually associated with their line of work. Drought conditions have just about ended their hopes for good crops this year.

Asked if his crop was suffering, Harold Thornton said:

"Not now. It's unconscious."

Bill Peterman is feeling sorry for any hungry grasshoppers which may venture into his crop.

"They will have to bring their own lunch," Bill said.

LONDON, June 24 (CP).—A deaf-and-dumb speaker tried to explain the National Health Act to a company of deaf and dumb. He dislocated three fingers.

That's the story which reached the sober columns of the British Medical Journal, reporting a speech to housewives by Sir Allen Daley.

Sir Allen later confessed: "It was a story I made up on the spur of the moment."

Fire Destroys Secret Building

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP).—A top-secret naval building, always under heavy guard, today was the centre of a three-alarm fire that also threatened a row of large munitions warehouses.

The fire was reported under control.

One man, familiar with the United States navy installations, said if the flames had spread to the warehouses just a few feet away "the entire southeastern part of Washington would have blown up."

The area is considered so secret that shore patrolmen with drawn revolvers kept Washington police, including the chief of police, from entering.

The navy refused any immediate estimate of damage, explanation of the cause of the fire, or to tell what was in building 13 of the naval research magazine.

A reporter for the Washington Times-Herald said, however, that the two story building was burned out.

AUKLINGTON, Northumberland, England (CP).—An osprey, a rare bird in Britain and which preys on fish, was caught on the River Coquet. It apparently had been in difficulties and died soon after. Its wingspan was five feet eight inches.

Expect Canada Year Book To Repeat as Best Seller

OTTAWA, June 24 (CP).—A fat, 1,300-page study of Canada's latest progress through time rolled off the press yesterday. It was the 1948-49 edition of The Canada Year Book, one of the Dominion's annual best-sellers, telling the story of the country's advance through the years since 1871.

A. E. Millward, of Ottawa, its 58-year-old editor, said the current edition is one of the most comprehensive reviews of its kind.

"The Canada Year Book is always a best seller," added Mr. Millward. "We print about 15,000 in English and about 1,500 in French."

It sells to the public at $2 and to teachers, students and the clergy for $1.

Usually The Year Book covers a 12-month period only, but this year the volume covers 18 months of social and economic development to make up for the lag caused by the war years.

Empire Supreme Court Plank in Tory Platform

LONDON, June 24 (CP).—The Conservative Party tonight made public the policy for Commonwealth and colonial affairs on which it will fight the next general election.

Major proposals include creation of a Commonwealth "supreme court," a Commonwealth combined staff in peace or war and an Empire counterpart of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation.

If returned to power, the party pledged, the Conservatives will aim at restoring the Commonwealth to the role of leader of free peoples against world Communism.

DEFEND PREFERENCES

They would "staunchly" defend imperial preferences — refusing if necessary to ratify the International Trade Organization charter — provide cheaper postal and telephone rates between Britain and the Empire, and encourage closer social and cultural bonds within the Commonwealth.

The policy statement was outlined at a press conference by Lord Tweedsmuir, 38-year-old former Canadian infantry officer, who sits on the Conservative front benches in the House of Lords. The proposals will be published tomorrow in a 63-page document entitled "Imperial Policy."

Asked whether this might involve conflict with Canadian-United States plans for standardization, Lord Tweedsmuir said his six-year war service convinced him no problem would be raised. He said Canada undoubtedly would act as a "bridge" in forging closer links between the United Kingdom and the United States.

One Painting Auctioned By Churchill

LONDON, June 24 (AP).—Winston Churchill, who paints for a hobby, put a painting on the block today for the first time. It sold for 1,250 guineas ($5,250).

The signed painting, called "The Blue Room, Trent Park, 1934," was auctioned to raise funds for the Y.W.C.A.

It was bought by the Brazilian chain of 24 newspapers owned by Assis Chateaubriand and will go to the Sao Paulo Art Museum.

Britain's wartime prime minister painted the picture in 1934, at the home of the late Sir Philip Sassoon, British shipping magnate and sportsman. It measures 19½ inches by 13, and was exhibited in 1948 at the Royal Academy.

Recently, he received a letter on Y.W.C.A. stationery addressed "Dear Mr. Churchill."

It was from his wife, who was a member of the committee planning the auction. She coaxed him to part with the picture.

Hiss Categorically Denies Charges Made by Ex-Red Whittaker Chambers

NEW YORK, June 24 (INS).—Alger Hiss recited a sober-faced litany of denials in Federal court today in unruffled repudiation of the countless charges lodged against him by ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers.

WITHOUT PERMISSION

Hiss said that if Chambers, the Government's chief witness, indeed had a key to Hiss' several homes in Washington, D.C., it was not with his permission, and from the tenor of the questioning it was presumed that this would be another stone on which the defence would rest.

Hiss—under the sympathetic questioning of Defence Attorney Lloyd [illegible] breaking do[illegible] point by point, the astonishingly minute evidence given to the court by Chambers and his wife. He stated:

He never met Col. Boris Bykov,

NOT AT PARTY

He did not accompany Chambers and Mrs. Chambers on the trips they had outlined in their testimony. The Chambers were not present at the Hisses' New Year's Eve party December 31, 1937.

He met Chambers late in 1934 or early 1935 while he was counsel for [illegible] any documents and did not see him after June, 1936.

He saw Chambers six or seven times during the 1934 or 1935-1936 period, loaned him furniture and money, and put him and his wife and child up for a night or two.

He gave Chambers a gift to New York on one occasion during their relationship. But, he repeated, after June of 1936 he told Chambers, in effect, to stay out of his life. The only repayment Chambers ever made to him, Hiss said, was the gift of a rug "given to him, Chambers told me, by a wealthy patron."

Chambers has testified that the rug was given to Hiss by Bykov, "for services rendered," after he introduced Hiss to the agent in a Brooklyn movie theatre.

Stryker managed to touch nearly all of Chambers' accusations, and get categorical denials on each point.

Greek Premier Dies at 88 After Illness

ATHENS, June 24 (AP).—Themistokles Sophoulis, Premier of Greece, died today.

He was 88 years old. Death occurred at his Summer residence. Although he had been ill and was near death last Autumn, his death at this time was unexpected.

Sophoulis, a key figure in the West's struggle to halt the march of Communism, often was referred to by his followers as the man made premier by the United States.

The venerable Liberal Party leader was an important cog in the Truman doctrine under which United States aid went to Greece, fighting a war against Communists in the north, and Turkey, under the shadow of the Russian bear.

SET RECORD

An outstanding personality in Greek politics for half a century, Sophoulis first was a postwar premier from November, 1945, to April, 1946, heading one of a succession of short-lived governments. His second premiership set a postwar Greek record for durability.

Sophoulis was born at Vathy on the Island of Samos in 1860, the son of a prominent Samian politician named Panayotti Sophoulis. He was educated in Athens and in Germany, specializing in archaeology, in which he held a doctor's degree. His writings on archaeology were well known in Europe of the 1880's.

Colorful Life Of 110 Years Comes to End

VANCOUVER, June 24 (CP).—Louis Theot, who lived from the era of gas-lamps to the atomic age, was buried here today after a colorful 110 years.

His formidable life-span was achieved "despite smoking and drinking and fighting once in a while."

Theot and his wife, former residents of Hurst Island, near Port Hardy, B.C., were admitted to the Provincial Infirmary in 1945.

Lonely, after the death of his wife two years ago, Theot was always "independent, courageous, uncomplaining and kindly," infirmary attendants said.

L.P.P. Urges Supporters To Cast "Peace Ballots"

The Victoria Labor-Progressive Party is advising its supporters to write on their ballots "Keep Canada Out of War" when they go to the polls Monday.

This was announced yesterday by Doris Blakey, party secretary here.

"Ballots must be marked with an 'X,'" commented District Returning Officer Sidney Cook. "Otherwise they will be rejected."

However, the L.P.P. says it feels that a "vote which counts for peace, not war" and "for homes, not war," will not be a wasted ballot."

ISSUES CONSIDERED

"The decision was reached after careful consideration of the issues at stake."

"Each candidate in the Victoria and Nanaimo Federal constituencies supports the Atlantic Pact, which is a pact against the Soviet Union or any other country which decides to travel the path of democracy and socialism."

Other parties, according to the L.P.P., support "the Government's line of scuttling the United Nations, violating the United Nations charter and serving the United States Government and military in their atomic bomb policy."

"Unfortunately, this includes Mr. W. Caird and Mr. R. Strachan of the C.C.F."

Changed World Trade Policies, Subsidized Housing, C.C.F. Aim

Changed world trade policies and subsidized low-rent housing were demanded in two C.C.F. radio addresses last night.

Speakers were William Caird, C.C.F. candidate for Victoria in the Dominion election, and Phyllis Webb.

"Canada and the United States are practically the only advocates of multilateral trading left in the world," Mr. Caird said. Other countries have negotiated bilateral or barter agreements, and long-term bulk-purchasing arrangements.

HELD UNREALISTIC

He described Canadian and United States policies as "quite unrealistic in view of present conditions of international trading."

"Largely because of the Canadian Government's refusal to recognize the changed conditions, Canada has been losing many of its traditional markets in Great Britain and Western Europe."

"The C.C.F. will establish export and import boards for our most important exports and imports. Our trade can be handled much more efficiently this way than by the use of tariffs and excise taxes."

"Import boards would be in a strong position in purchasing goods in the markets of the world, and would be able to obtain goods at the lowest possible prices with adequate safeguards for Canadian labor against sweatshop production abroad."

NOT ADEQUATE HOUSED

Miss Webb said that Canada's population "is in many respects less adequately housed today than in was in 1924."

She cited the Curtis report of the Government's housing committee, which stated that at least one-third of families in lower income brackets could not obtain proper housing unless their rents were subsidized. The report said the Dominion Government should contribute the main capital cost.

"But what does our honorable Prime Minister have to say about subsidized low-rental housing? Mr. St. Laurent calmly announces that 'No Government, of which I am a part, would ever pass legislation for subsidizing housing.'"

"I suggest then that the voters return a Government of which Mr. St. Laurent is not a part if you want action on housing."

A C.C.F. Government would spur housing action from the Federal level downward, Miss Webb said.

The University of Minnesota was chartered by the territorial legislature in 1851, only two years after establishment of the Minnesota territory 100 years ago.

Equalization Of Education Chances Urged

Canadian democracy requires equalization of opportunity for higher education, Robert M. Strachan, C.C.F. candidate for Nanaimo riding, told a meeting at the K. of P. Hall in Sidney.

He referred to a recent statement by Dr. G. Edward Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, that "there is no such thing as equality in higher education in Canada."

Dr. Hall, Mr. Strachan said, indicated that in families with annual incomes of $5,000 or more, practically all students of superior ability attended university.

In low income families, only some 20 per cent of superior students received higher schooling.

"This is a needless waste of Canadian ability," said Mr. Strachan.

A C.C.F. Federal Government, Mr. Strachan continued, would collaborate with Provincial Governments in equalizing educational opportunities.

It would recognize that "education was rightly under provincial jurisdiction," and would provide scholarships, encourage arts and crafts and assure teachers adequate salaries.

"Only a C.C.F. Government stands prepared to accept and fulfil its responsibilities to the generations of Canadians yet unborn."

Back Cameron, Voters Urged

M. F. Lougheed, executive member of the Union of Electors, said yesterday he anticipates that "all those who value their freedom" will vote for Gordon Cameron, Victoria Progressive Conservative candidate.

As a "non-party organization," Mr. Lougheed said, the Union of Electors is "not interested in platforms," but "in results."

However, we feel that Mr. Cameron's personal pledge, disregarding his party's promises, is more nearly an agreement to be our candidate than that of any other candidate.

"It is our objective to see that our representative is at all times our servant, not our master."

HONORED ON BIRTHDAYS

COBBLE HILL, B.C.—Miss Mona Melrose recently entertained Mr. Robert and Mr. William Manly, pioneer twins of the district, in honor of their 81st birthdays.

Many old friends called during the evening, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed, recalling old times; refreshments being served by the hostess.

Declares P.C.'s 'Basking in Glory' Of Achievements of Liberal Party

The Progressive Conservative party, having no program of their own, have been forced to copy the Liberal program, William Poupore, Liberal candidate for Nanaimo, told a meeting at Royal Oak last night.

The Liberals were not promising pie in the sky, he said, they would be just carrying on what they had been doing for the past five years.

George Drew and his Progressive Conservatives, said Mr. Poupore, had opposed most of the progressive measures put forward by the Liberal party at Ottawa purely for publicity purposes, but now with a campaign under way they were doing an about face.

OPPOSED ALLOWANCES

For example, he said, Premier Drew had opposed family allowances but now was supporting them.

Maj.-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Conservative candidate, was following the same line, trying to claim credit for everything the Liberal Government had done. He had been running around halls at Ottawa finding out what had been done and then acting as his own press agent.

It was time for a change in Nanaimo constituency, said Mr. Poupore. Maj.-Gen. Pearkes should be left to enjoy his retirement at Brentwood and a Liberal representative should be chosen to work with the next Liberal Government.

BATTERY OF SPEAKERS

Mr. Poupore was supported by a battery of four speakers, Hon. Grant, G. A. A. Hebden and Jack Ruttan.

Mr. Ruttan said the Progressive Conservatives were talking a lot about what they would do in the future. They had been very careful not to talk about their past history because it wasn't very attractive.

Liberals on the other hand, could be proud of their constant forward-looking record since 1935. Since they took over the reins of office Canada had been moving steadily forward and in the war had achieved a "phenomenal record." There was no difference, he said, in what the Conservatives said they would do and what the Liberals had actually been doing.

Hon. Grant took over the same theme and said the Liberals hadn't been able to find a single issue in the election that hadn't been taken from the Liberal platform. They were trying to bask in the reflected glory of Liberal achievements, and were vainly grasping at Liberal straws.

Mr. Hebden, recalling that the Conservatives were laying stress on contributory old-age pensions, said that the idea was first proposed at Ottawa by Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew in 1937.

The Liberal Government's handling of external affairs, he said, had been responsible for Canada's rise in status throughout the world. With only 1 per cent of the world's population, Canada was the third trading nation and had a seat on the 11-man Security Council.

Conservative allegation that the Liberals had been incompetent in handling foreign trade, he labeled "pure nonsense."

Isla Tuck, Educationist, Dies Suddenly in Hospital

The sudden death yesterday of Miss Isla Tuck came as a shock to many Victoria citizens who knew her both as a teacher and a school trustee.

Miss Tuck died in St. Joseph's Hospital at the age of 66, a short time after undergoing an operation for goitre.

She entered the teaching profession in Victoria in 1905, rising to the position of principal of Spring Ridge Primary School in 1914. She remained as principal of the school until her superannuation in June, 1943.

Miss Tuck was a successful candidate in the school trustee elections of December, 1943. The energies which she devoted to her office made her a favorite with electors and she served continuously in office until her death.

SHOCK TO BOARD

School board officials stated they had suffered a great loss in the death of Miss Tuck.

Alderman Frank Mulliner, who was also a chairman of the school board during Miss Tuck's term of office, declared: "We have lost a hard-working public official and a very fine citizen. Miss Tuck has done a lot of useful work."

As a school principal, Miss Tuck was a very faithful servant to the trustees, Alderman Mulliner added.

Major R. H. Green, chairmin of the Greater Victoria School Board, who knew the deceased's father, the late Samuel Tuck, when he was sheriff of the South Kootenays early in the century, described Miss Tuck as an excellent teacher, "popular with the children as well as other teachers."

"She was a hard worker and conscientious as a member of the school board," declared Mr. Green. "We will miss her greatly."

Austin S. Curtis, school board member who was chairman during the greater part of Miss Tuck's service, said she had made a valuable contribution to the work of the school board.

FINE RECORD

"She had a fine record as a teacher as well as a trustee," he added. "We all are very shocked at her passing."

One of four city representatives on the Greater Victoria School Board, officials said it is unlikely [illegible] filled until the next annual elections are held in December. Last December she was elected by acclamation for a two-year term.

Miss Tuck was born in Yale, British Columbia. At at early age she moved to Victoria with her parents and received her early education here. She attended Havergal College in Toronto and the Provincial Normal School at Vancouver.

For 50 years she and her mother managed Roccabella Guest House on Blanshard Street.

Miss Tuck was an honorary member of the University Women's Club and had been active in the Y.W.C.A., the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Local Council of Women.

On the school board she was chairman of the public relations committee and an enthusiastic member of the education committee.

Her nearest surviving relatives are a nephew, Douglas B. Tuck, and a niece, Miss Isla Tuck, both of Victoria.

Rev. Frederick Pike will officiate at funeral services for Miss Tuck to be held in Christ Church Cathedral at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, to be followed by a service at Royal Oak Crematorium. Funeral arrangements have been made by Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company.

City Players Repeat Play

By popular demand, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," presented by the Victoria Players' Guild, is being repeated on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, June 28, 29 and 30 at 8:15 at the Club Sirocco, View Street.

Admittedly a most difficult play for amateurs to produce, with conviction and authority, this week's three-night run was such an outstanding success that the director, Audrey St. Denys Johnson and the large cast have made arrangements with the Club Sirocco for the additional performances.

Final Tenders On Building Called in City

The Provincial Public Works Department has called for tenders on the electrical work for the new four-story Government office building to be constructed at Elliott and Government Streets.

The tenders must be in the Public Works Department before noon on July 11.

Contracts for other work on the building have already been awarded.

The department has also called tenders for reconstruction of 6.25 miles of the Wyndell-Creston section of the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway. They are to be in by July 8.

Little Stories for Bedtime - - -

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

CHATTERER IS A SECOND BUSTER BEAR

The piggishness of Buster Bear was not all a pleasant thing to see. But there was one thing about it which was in Buster's favor, and this was the fact that it didn't last long. At least he didn't try long to drive away everybody else that he might have all of those brown, sweet, little beech nuts for himself. Whatever faults Buster may have, stupidity is not one of them. He soon saw that it would be nothing less than stupidity to try to drive the others away, because he couldn't do it. So Buster stopped wasting his time in this way and settled down to the business of getting his fair share of those nuts.

So Chatterer was obliged to see his neighbors, big and little, enjoying those nuts.

In the greedy way in which he hunted for them he was quite as piggish as ever, but he no longer paid any attention to his neighbors and allowed them to hunt for their share in peace. He didn't even growl at them. Perhaps one reason was that most of them took great care not to get very near him. If he moved over where Lightfoot the Deer was feeding, Lightfoot quietly moved away to another place, and as Buster was finding plenty and rapidly filling his stomach, his natural good nature returned.

So in a little while everybody was busy and quiet and happy with one exception, and that one exception was Chatterer the Red Squirrel. Chatterer was a second Buster Bear. That is to say he was what Buster was at first—piggish. But he was worse than Buster. You see Chatterer was born with an unruly tongue. He has the most unruly tongue in all the Green Forest. As a scold, no one can compare with him. Furthermore, he is greedy to the last degree. Yes siree, Chatterer is the greediest fellow I know of, and I know a number of very greedy people. He is one of those who, having more than he can use himself, wants what others may have found.

Now there were several hundred times as many beech nuts as Chatterer could possibly make use of, enough for all the people of the Green Forest who like beech nuts, yet if Chatterer could have had his way, not one of his neighbors would have been allowed near those brown, sweet, little nuts. But people like Chatterer seldom can have their way which is a very fortunate thing. So Chatterer was obliged to see his neighbors, little and big, enjoying those nuts, and it upset him sadly. He scolded as fast as his tongue could go, first one and then another. He called them names, all the bad names he could think of. He said that they had no right in those nuts, but that they all belonged to him because he had been keeping watch over these beech nuts ever since the nuts had begun to form. This, of course, was nonsense, but what could you expect from anyone like Chatterer? Quarrelsome scolds seldom have much sense, anyway.

Not only did Chatterer scold, but he would try to drive the others away. As all, with the exception of Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, were bigger than he, of course, he didn't succeed. Most of them paid no attention to him, whereat he would scold harder than ever. The only ones who did notice him were his cousin Happy Jack Squirrel, and Sammy Jay, both of whom foolishly answered him back. In fact, they would stop hunting nuts to quarrel with him, which was just what Chatterer wanted. But the others kept right on hunting nuts just as if Chatterer didn't even exist, and he kept right on scolding. He quite forgot what he had come there for. He was so piggish about those nuts that he actually was cheating himself. He was so busy trying to prevent others getting any that he himself was getting none.

Next Story: Chatterer gets a shaking.

Bride's Gown Is Gift From Mother in Holland

PARKSVILLE — St. Alban's Church, French Creek, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday afternoon, when Rev. G. T. Pattison united in marriage Mr. Thomas Tryon, youngest son of Mrs. C. R. Tryon and the late Mr. C. E. Tryon of French Creek, Parksville, Vancouver Island, and Miss Josta Visschers, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Visschers, Deventer, Holland.

The wedding culminated a wartime romance, as Mr. Tryon met his Dutch bride while serving in the 16th Battery, attached to the 3rd Canadian Anti-Aircraft Regiment of the liberation army in Holland.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Gordon Odgers of Nanaimo, looked radiant in a gown of white crepe de Chine, princess style, with Mary Stuart collar, edged with Valenciennes lace and featuring a fitted bodice and full skirt. The material for her gown came from Holland, a gift from her mother. Her full-length veil, with wide borders of Chantilly lace, fell from a coronet of orange blossom and she carried a bouquet of red roses, gardenias and stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor Mrs. W. Osborn, sister of the groom, wore a gown of apricot rose crepe with draped peplum, a large white Leghorn hat, trimmed with polka dot ribbon, and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses. Also attending the bride as flower girl Miss Diane Osborn, niece of the groom, made a dainty picture in pink figured organdie with satin ribbon basket of roses, while her brother, little Peter Osborn, carried out the duties of pagehow, dressed in a white suit.

Mr. Jack Tryon, the bridegroom's brother, was best man, and ushers were Mr. Ronald Thwaites and Mr. Peter Rawlins. Mrs. Tryon, the bridegroom's mother, had chosen a brown crepe gown and matching hat. At the reception, held in the garden at the family home at "Woodlands," Mr. Ronald Thwaites proposed the toast to the bride, and later the young couple left by car for Victoria, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride traveled in a grey suit, white blouse, small black hat and black accessories. They will return to make their residence at French Creek.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bazett, Kelowna; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Moillie, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. R. Harrison, Vancouver; Mr. E. Lonsdale, Shawnigan Lake, and Rev. H. Jones and Mrs. Jones, Colwood.

Chapter Visits Adopted School

The executive committee of the Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., visited their "adopted" school, Happy Valley school, recently.

Mrs. W. C. Nichols, regent, presented the school with a framed wedding picture of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. The picture was received by Jack White. Two books were then presented to Divisions 2 and 3, Harry White receiving for Division 3 and Bobby Parker receiving, for Division 2.

Mr. F. J. Willway, chairman, and principal of the school, introduced Mr. W. Brown, inspector of schools, who presented the trophies which had been won at the elementary school sports day at Langford. Bernard Nikkels and Stanley Stevens were both recipients of individual trophies, and Bobby Mills, class president of Division 3, received the cup which was won by the school for the most points.

Marguerite LeBerge presented Mrs. W. C. Nichol with a purse of money which had been raised by the children of the school to provide a food parcel for a family in England.

After a short business meeting, the members enjoyed a social hour which took the form of a birthday party celebrating the auxiliary's tenth anniversary. Corsages were presented to honorary presidents Mrs. W. Allen and Mrs. G. H. Firth, also charter members Mrs. R. Husband, Miss G. Etheridge, Mrs. M. Matchum, Mrs. W. Van Druten, Miss I. Pike and Miss I. Harris.

Uncertain Destiny

By BETTY WEBB

CHAPTER XXVI

For a long time after that final scene with Steve, Linda sat in her bedroom attempting to regain her composure. She was badly shaken by the ordeal and her head ached.

"Oh, Steve," she whispered pitifully, "if you had said only one word—one word that might have showed you cared a little!"

She started from her reverie as someone tapped on her door. Steve's voice said curtly, "I'm driving back to Chicago. Can I give you a lift?"

Linda hesitated. She had driven to the farm with Mary and Phil, and only the station wagon was available. She thought quickly. "Maybe we can talk things over as we drive back to town."

"Thank you," she answered clearly. "I'll be right out."

But while riding back to Chicago, Steve maintained an icy indifference, and Linda sat huddled in her corner of the car, too miserable to break the silence between them. Again and again she opened her lips to protest—to cast her pride to the winds and tell Steve that she loved him; to implore him for another chance. But each time she caught a glimpse of Steve's grim profile her determination crumbled.

Was this the man who had been so gentle, so understanding Linda wondered sadly. He was like a stranger, engrossed in his own thoughts. Linda blinked back the tears and sat unrelaxed beside him until they had reached the apartment house.

When the roadster came to a stop before the door, Linda turned pathetically.

"You—you're staying here, aren't you, Steve?"

He hesitated. "I'm leaving at midnight for New York. I'll be gone several days."

"Then you've agreed to the moving picture contract?" Linda asked eagerly.

Steve nodded. "They called me at the farm to say they had agreed to my price."

"Oh, I'm so glad!" In her happiness for Steve's success Linda had forgotten that she would soon be gone, soon have no part in his good fortune. "Is it—is it a deal of money?"

Steve looked at her coldly, his eyes flickering from her flushed face to rest on a far-off object. "I imagine your share will be sufficient for you to live in luxury. That's what you want, isn't it?"

Linda gasped at this new outrage. She knew Steve would never say anything that unkind unless someone had made him believe she was like that—greedy and scheming. And who would be cruel enough to utter such a falsehood—who else stood to profit by making up untruths about Steve's wife, except Brenda Coleman?

Linda shrugged indifferently. "No one likes luxury better than I," she Steve."

Tossing restlessly through the night, she tried to think of some way to find out Brenda's plans for the future. Linda's heart ached for Steve. Would Brenda destroy everything that she, Linda, had helped him create—confidence in himself and his future? Or was it possible that Brenda had changed—that she would make Steve happy?

Linda hoped fervently that this was true, although her heart told her relentlessly that Brenda was still willful, still selfish, and would again ruin Steve's life.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Robert B. Andrews, a University student in the States, has come up with a new arrangement of reading matter, called Square Span. Man's natural tendency is to see an object both vertically and horizontally, at the same time. Tests have shown that a great majority of readers could read it faster than conventional printed matter. So—

TRY IT YOURSELF

At Humber's Warehouse — which you are reading about — they have a policy — that their prices at all times reflect, the fact that they, sell Direct To You from a big warehouse.

And so for instance it is now possible for you to get started, and get all essentials to furnish 3 rooms, for the very low price of just 300 bux

A critic has suggested So Span may be the "Model-T" of future reading power.

Humber's have universal credit, with months to pay, and deliver free any old where.

Why I Will Vote MAYHEW

LOUIS MICHELIN

At his desk again after a busy trip East and to the Canadian Industries Fair in Toronto, Louis Michelin, well-known Victoria business man says: "As a business man, I feel that the administration of which Mr. Mayhew has been so able a representative for so many years is the best possible for the people of Canada as a whole, and certainly for British Columbia. I would like to go on record as saying Bob Mayhew has served Victoria with single-minded purpose. Nothing has been asked of him by individuals or organizations for the betterment of Canada and the Canadian way of life that he hasn't done his best to implement. He is a truly sincere person.

"He has won the faith and admiration of his fellow-members in Ottawa and of the British Columbia public through his untiring promotion of sound Liberal principles in Canadian affairs."

Mr. Michelin is president of the Rotary Club, president of the Automobile Dealers' Association, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and a director of the Laurier Club.

Born within sound of Bow Bells, Mr. Michelin came to Canada as a school boy, was educated in Victoria. A veteran of World War One, he served with the Canadian Scottish in the last war.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP).—The stock market tried to extend its recent recovery move, but could not quite make it. The market edged into slightly higher price ground in early trading, and stayed there most of the day. Late in the session the little buying interest that had developed dwindled away, and the price level gradually settled back.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, June 24 (CP).—Buying which came mainly from the southwest lifted wheat more than 2 cents at times on the Board of Trade. Despite the strength, the market was not very active. Other grains also moved higher. Scattered showers in many areas of the southwest, raising the possibility of further damage to wheat, was the main factor in the advance.

Winnipeg Grain

Wheat, oats, barley and rye futures showed a firm trend at the close on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Oats and barley came into routine buying by shippers, while offerings were light. Some selling was influenced by moisture conditions over the Prairies and reported crop damage. Rye attracted demand through export accounts. Trading was moderately active.

East-West came to two different kinds of grief in today's deal.

West, dealer.

East-West vulnerable.

NORTH

♦ A 10 6

WEST
♠ K Q J 9 8 5

♦ 8 5 2
♣ Q J 9 7 3

SOUTH
♠ A 6
♥ 10
♦ K J 9 7 4 3
♣ K 8 4 2

This deal occurred in a total-point duplicate game, and a certain East-West pair would have ended up in the lead except for their performance on this one board. The bidding at the table went:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	1 N.T.	2 ♦
2 ♠	3 ♦	Pass	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	Pass	4 ♦
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

In view of West's repeated spade bids, East might well have risked a four-spade contract, even though he had a singleton in the suit.

Since no East-West pair reached four spades, however, this pair would have done well at four diamonds doubled, except for West's blunder in the defence. The spade king was led; South won and returned the heart ten. West ducked, as did dummy, and East won with the jack. East returned a trump to cut down dummy's ruffing power. The ace captured West's queen, and the singleton club was returned, East putting up the jack, declarer the king, and West winning with the ace.

West was naturally eager to put his partner on lead so that another diamond could be taken out of dummy—but he went after this admirable objective in a very strange way! Sure that East had the heart ace, West led the heart seven. Dummy's nine was played, and East's possession of the heart ace meant very little! South ruffed away that card, ruffed a club in dummy, ruffed another heart, dropping West's king, then trumped a second club and finally discarded a loser on the established heart queen, fulfilling the contract.

West's heart play was not well advised! If he had led the spade jack, East would have ruffed and returned a trump, defeating the contract, two tricks.

And Lowered Taxes as well!

By careful administration the Liberal government has established this record and been able at the same time to cut the national debt by 1,625 million dollars . . . which has meant a saving of $224 for every man, woman and child in Canada.

And every budget since 1945 has announced lowered rates of taxation. This has resulted in a 32% reduction in personal income tax and means that 750,000 people who formerly paid income tax do not now pay any income tax at all.

The total tax reductions in dollars and cents amounts to $1,292,000,000 since 1945.

TO BUILD! OR NOT TO BUILD?
That is the question in the minds of many Victorians today—who hesitate to build at present high costs. Regardless of whether you plan on building NOW or LATER, we can offer you one WISE suggestion: Choose the location you prefer and get your building site NOW. Choice view property near VICTORIA is rapidly disappearing. The man with vision is choosing his lot today in a reasonable TAX and PRICE area. If necessary, he can then afford to delay his building program a year or two.

Ask us for details of the beautiful "SEA-VIEW HEIGHTS" Subdivision overlooking GORDON'S BAY, MOUNT BAKER and the STRAITS. Lots may be purchased on budget terms if you prefer, or prices as low as $100. We have two splendid lots which, owners must resell, one is HALF ACRE of level land, good soil, cleared, light and water; the other lot, gentle slope, all-round view, cherry trees. Already over 40 new property holders in this attractive subdivision.

At CADBORO BAY we have a limited number of lots, some on the waterfront—in an exclusive private subdivision just on the market. We will be pleased to supply particulars.

In the TEN MILE POINT area we have offer two outstanding ACRE LOTS on TUDOR AVENUE for $1,100 each. Also two reasonably-priced waterfront lots, Chapel Road, which may be purchased as low as $600. Lots with 100 ft. frontage for $1,175.

A choice waterfront lot between Mount Douglas Park and Cordova Bay, which has been held by an American resident for over 20 years. 90 ft. frontage by over 370 ft. Brush and trees treed with cedars and maples. City water and light available, plus additional well. Details and location at office. Your opportunity to obtain a beautiful building site on the water.

We will be pleased to give you further details on the above properties at our office—without obligation on your part.

Courtenay to Vote On School Program

COURTENAY, June 24. — The School Board of Courtenay District No. 71 is making its entire $1,200,000 building program on one throw. Taxpayers will vote late next month on the program as a whole.

This was the reply given by Trustee W. E. Mantle at a joint Courtenay City Council-School Board meeting in answer to Mayor Harry Simms' question whether taxpayers would be given the opportunity to express their preference for one part of the program over another.

The program calls for construction of an $860,000 consolidated high school at Courtenay, eliminating present high schools at Courtenay, Cumberland, Comox and Tsolum, also two small primary schools, purchase of new school sites, and alterations to existing schools.

Considerable dissatisfaction has developed in the district over the board's plan to build a "semi-university" at Courtenay, opponents of the plan holding that the estimated cost of the high school will probably bear little relation to the actual finished cost.

OFFER OBJECTIONS

They also dislike the idea of centralization, and feel the overcrowding can be solved by enlarging present high schools and constructing new elementary schools.

Those who advocate the plan say it will result in cheaper operation costs and will provide better educational opportunities for district students.

Cost of the program will be shared by the school district and the Provincial Government. The district will have to raise $632,500. At the joint meeting, the Courtenay council was informed it would have to raise $107,082 as its share of the cost. This figure, based on 1949 assessment values, represents 16.93 per cent of the total. Cumberland's share of 3.18 per cent will be $20,113, while the rural area will be required to raise $505,304.

Sponsor Dinner At Parksville

PARKSVILLE, June 24.—Graduates of Parksville High School, Merilyn Morris, Andre Butler, Jean Davidson, Joyce Brittain, Joseph Stanhope, Garnet Peterson and Michael Butler, will be honored at a banquet sponsored by the Parksville Parent-Teacher Association on Tuesday at the Parksville Cafe. Guests will include Inspector Claude Campbell, Parksville district trustees, Mrs. Ahenhead, Mrs. Green, P. McLaughlin and H. Butler; parents of the graduating class, the president and secretary of the student's council, members of the teaching staff of the High School and their wives, and F. Sheldrake, Parksville jeweler.

Mr. Sheldrake will present a medal which he has donated for proficiency in athletics, and a pen and pencil set for scholarship. A prize for school citizenship will be awarded by the Parent-Teacher Association. Plans for the banquet are being formed by the executive under the leadership of the president, E. G. Comox Village Truck Arrives

COMOX, June 24.—It came just a week too late. The new Comox fire truck arrived one week after the fire which razed the Knights of Pythias Hall, while members of the volunteer fire department worked feverishly trying to get their broken down fire truck in operation.

The new truck was driven 3,700 miles from Owen Sound, Ont., and delivery was taken by Fire Chief Edward Dawson and members of his department.

Equipped with the latest fire-fighting devices, the truck carries a 600-gallon tank.

Fire Chief Dawson stated that together with the old equipment, at present being overhauled, the new unit should be sufficient to handle the fire protection needs of the village for several years. A demonstration will be arranged in the near future.

Record Events At Ladysmith

LADYSMITH, June 24.—An event which may one day prove to be historic was the placing of a bottle containing two documents in the Cenotaph base during the pouring of cement for the foundation this week.

One contains a partial account of the 1948 financial statement for the City of Ladysmith with names of the mayor, alderman and city clerk. The other records a story of the moving of the Cenotaph, and the names of workmen engaged on the project.

The cenotaph, a granite structure weighing about 12 tons, has been taken from the former site at Gatacre Street, and will be reconstructed at the new site in front of the Post Office on Esplanade Street. It is estimated that 18 yards of gravel will be used for the foundation, which will have a surface area of 14 by 14 feet. Matt Gilson and a full crew are rushing the job in an effort to have the Cenotaph set up by July 1.

Duncan Briefs

DUNCAN, June 24.—The City Council, on advice from the Chamber of Commerce, will not declare July 2 a legal holiday, as requested by the Duncan Baseball Association. It was felt that four days without fresh meats and groceries would impose a hardship on persons who have no refrigeration. The council will support the baseball club in every way possible.

* * *

Contractors have started to clear the way and make foundations for the sub-structure of a new bridge to cross the Cowichan River and pass through the city of Duncan. A breakwater will be built, and an entirely new channel dug. The work is expected to eliminate the constant erosion which has been taking place for several years. Several hundred thousands yards of gravel will be reclaimed from the river bed and used for road bed and other construction. A large crew is at work with the various contracting firms.

* * *

A branch of the Kiwanis Club was formed at Duncan at a dinner meeting in the Commercial Hotel dining-room. Officers elected were: Hugh C. Molyneaux, president; Lindsay Loutet, vice-president; P. A. Gallagher, secretary, and Frank McEwan, treasurer. Officers were installed by Denis Hagar, Victoria.

Approve Grant

COURTENAY, June 24.—Another step toward establishment of a health unit at Courtenay was announced by J. L. Gibson. He said the Federal Government had approved a grant of $34,000 to the Provincial Government to make funds available for salaries and traveling expenses of five qualified public health physicians who will act as directors of new health units, at Courtenay, Chilliwack, Trail, New Westminster and Kamloops.

Work on Pool At Courtenay

COURTENAY, June 24.—Plans for a working bee on Sunday to construct a fence around the new Courtenay and district Memorial Swimming Pool were announced by the pool committee. All citizens have been asked to help with the work.

Official opening of the pool is slated for July 1, when swimming and diving competitions will form part of the day's celebrations.

The pool is completed, except for the pump and chlorinator to come from Vancouver.

An automobile to be given away as a door prize at a pool dance next month has arrived at Courtenay and ticket sales are being stepped up.

Clubs Install Rotary Heads

QUALICUM BEACH, June 24.—Nearly 120 Rotarians and their wives were present at the joint installation ceremony, banquet and dance held on Wednesday night at Qualicum Beach Hotel by the Port Alberni and the Qualicum Beach Rotary Clubs. Alec McFarlane introduced the speakers, and Craig Reid presided.

Rev. G. T. Pattison, Qualicum Beach, and J. Spooner, Port Alberni, were installed as presidents of their respective clubs. Past Presidents' badges were presented to Clifford McDonald of Port Alberni, and Charles Little, Qualicum Beach, and flowers to their wives. Baby pins were given to several members who had recently become parents.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Qualicum Beach Rotary Club in the K. of P. Hall, F. C. Heard gave an informal talk on the gold rush at Victoria, which occurred about 80 years ago, and made a boom town of Goldstream.

Experts Solve Animal Puzzle

COURTENAY, June 24.—It was not a beaver, but it had a beaver-like head. It was not a muskrat, even though it had a rat's tail.

For that reason game officials at Courtenay had but one question all week: "What is it?"

Experts at Victoria said it was a nutria, or a myopotamus coypus, if you prefer zoological accuracy.

Nutrias are South American rodents which were introduced into British Columbia several years ago as a possible source of new fur.

The nutria in question was killed by a trapper earlier in the week when it attacked his dog. The trapper termed it "mighty queer-looking."

New Engineer At Courtenay

COURTENAY, June 24.—L. E. Smith, construction engineer with the Alberta Department of Highways for the past eight years, has arrived here to take over as assistant district engineer. He replaces J. L. Roe, who has been transferred to Salmon Arm district.

Mr. Roe has been in charge of road development from Departure Bay to the north end of the Island since he came here in 1946, and the strain of his work has impaired his health, resulting in his transfer to the Kamloops district.

Representations have been made by H. J. Welch, M.L.A., to appoint a number of assistants to the local engineer to take charge of work on side roads in the constituency.

Weather Forecasts

Hooks Big Fish After Tussle

COURTNEY, June 24.—One of the largest fish ever caught in the Puntledge River, a spring salmon estimated at between 30 and 35 pounds, was landed Wednesday night by Earle Banford of Courtenay.

Dick Hipwell was with him at the time.

"I have a pair of mighty sore arms," Mr. Banford said. He played the fish for more than 30 minutes before landing it.

Exact weight of the fish was not determined. "We looked all over the town for big scales but could not find any," Mr. Banford said.

Unemployment Ratio Up As Students Seek Jobs

Victoria's unemployment ratio jumped sharply this week as students poured in seeking Summer jobs.

"The early demand for temporary Summer help has, for the moment, been filled," said C. A. Mudge, employment service manager in Victoria.

"However, orders for this type of worker are coming in steadily and we hope to have a large proportion of them placed in the next week or so."

Ratio of male jobless to available jobs increased from five to one last week to six to one this week. The women's ratio was also up slightly, from 1.5 to one last week to 1.8 to one this week.

OVERALL RATIO UP

Overall ratio rose from 3.4 to one to four to one.

Skilled applicants are still scarce in many trades, and there are notable shortages of bakers, tailors, shoe repair men, painters and plasterers. Other jobs for which suitable applicants are needed are: Butter maker, lumber grader, milk route salesmen, rug cleaner, meat cutters, carpet layers, armature winders, French polishers, and sash and door bench hands.

Jobs in other parts of the country include tile layer, terrazo layer, meat cutter, bread and cake bench hand, and a good number of executive and professional vacancies.

"Employers' needs for reliable and qualified female help still remain unfilled," Mr. Mudge said. "Efficient stenographers and fully all service workers for heavier jobs—such as cleaning and kitchen work involving lifting and climbing—are most needed.

TEMPORARY HELP SURPLUS

A surplus of inexperienced temporary help is still available among high school students seeking Summer work.

Out-of-town openings for professional workers are increasing. They include graduate nurses, physiotherapists, dietitians, X-ray technicians, physical education instructors, program director, occupational therapist.

Few local applicants holding needed qualifications are interested, because they are finding work locally.

School Bus Order Placed At Nanaimo

NANAIMO, June 24.—Nanaimo and District School Board with a view to supplying its own transportation system when school opens in the Fall, placed an order with a Vancouver agency of the Federal Truck Co. for five school buses to cost approximately $39,500. The order must be ratified by the Department of Education.

Since the award was made, it was unofficially stated here that other firms which put in tenders are considering protesting the award, and the calling of a meeting to decide if a formal statement will be issued.

According to the chairman of Nanaimo and District School Board, Trustee John Barsby, all six tenders received careful consideration. The Federal Truck Co. being the lowest tender and investigation having shown it had a good record, the order was placed.

Cagers Decide To Push Plan For Building

The Victoria and District Basketball Association held its second meeting last night to lay plans for possible construction of an auditorium.

The meeting decided it will definitely go ahead with plans. The cagers are ready to form a committee to work with a like group from the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association, which is expected to meet early next week, towards making the plans a success. An attempt will be made to work out an equitable financial basis for the two groups and to secure the support of the service clubs in making the plans a reality.

Tentative plans call for each group to get the use of the building for a six-month period each year and to donate a percentage of its gross receipts to the joint committee for operating expenses.

If the two groups can reach an agreement, the building will be built large enough to accommodate a lacrosse floor with suitable seating facilities and will be available to other organizations for their productions.

If the lacrosse body does not see fit to make it a joint effort, the cagers decided to continue their attempt to erect a building alone.

Accord Near In Dispute Of Carpenters

Final settlement of the months-old dispute between Victoria building contractors and union carpenters seemed closer following a meeting yesterday of the Victoria Building Industries Exchange.

Acceptance of the "principle" of a maintenance-of-membership clause, demanded by the union in any new contract, was announced by the Exchange.

"If they want an agreement with that in it, we are quite prepared to give it," said G. A. Wheaton, past president of the builders' organization.

"GLAD TO HEAR IT"

"I'm glad to hear it," commented Alexander Sims, business agent and secretary of Local 1598, United Brotherhood of Carpenters, Joiners, Shipwrights and Caulkers of America (A.F.L.-T.L.C.)

Differences over wages and working conditions were settled following the carpenters' strike here last December, leaving union status the main issue to be decided.

The union demand for maintenance of membership was made at the suggestion of a Labor Relations Board conciliator.

Under such a clause, all employees who are at present union members would be required to keep up their union membership as a condition of employment.

NOT AN EXCUSE

The demand states further that this provision "shall not be construed to excuse any employee from retaining his membership for the reason of leaving his employment with one employer and being employed by another."

In reply to a union request, the Exchange also decided to have a committee meet with a carpenters' committee to discuss a proposed tradesmen's qualifications act, embodying principles similar to those now incorporated in Quebec and Ontario legislation.

Saanich Blaze Held in Check

Quick action by Saanich firemen yesterday confined a roaring fire to portions of the living quarters, storeroom and roof of the Parkview Greenhouse, Santa Rosa Avenue.

Firemen said they believed the fire started from sparks caught in yesterday's high wind. Firemen answered the call to the greenhouse at 12:25 and kept watch on it later to prevent winds whipping up a fresh outbreak.

Property is owned by Mrs. Quon Yee, 544 Fisgard Street. No one was injured.

In six other daytime calls the department put out bush and chimney fires in several parts of the municipality.

97-Foot Schooner Popular Visitor Here

Marine News

"Wanted—Able lads between the ages of 14 and 18—to sail the schooner Gracie S., leaving June 20 for unknown ports to westward."

Few are the lads whose hearts and spirit of adventure would not be stirred upon reading such an advertisement. It is not an imaginary affair. It appeared in the Seattle office window of E. E. Maxwell recently.

And on June 20 the 97-foot Gracie S. shoved off from the Puget Sound port with a crew of keen-ake lads aboard. They left with no particular timetable. They left knowing that for the following two weeks they would go where the wind blew.

The trip is now well under way, and yesterday the beautiful Gracie S. was a visitor to Victoria's Inner Harbor. Hundreds of Victorians lined the Causeway to see and admire the sailing craft. She left the local harbor early in the afternoon.

Mr. Kennell purchased the craft just recently. For 50 years the Gracie S. operated as a pilot ship in and about San Francisco Bay. Now she is completely refitted as a "sea-going school" for young men.

PERFECT REPLICA

The Gracie S. is a perfect replica of the old traders, and today is one of the most seaworthy vessels of her kind afloat. She has "everything" aboard her for the comfort of her crew, but has purposely been kept "old-fashioned" for the sake of atmosphere.

She has a great Diesel engine, steam heat throughout, an electric galley, complete radio equipment, and every imaginable convenience for a cruise at sea.

A complete program of experience and training is under way for the young lads who are participating in the trip. Drills and schooling occupied the first few days of the cruise. Each night the ship drops anchor at some inlet or cove or bay.

While ashore, the boys beach comb, fish and visit nearby areas of their overnight location.

The Gracie S. is on the first in a series of Summertime cruises, each to last about two weeks.

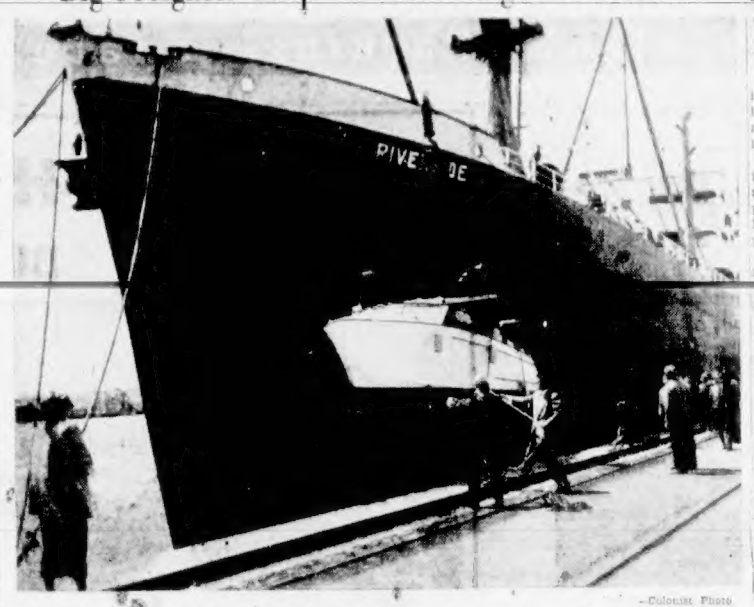
Big Freighter Helps in Launching Small Craft



—Colonist Photo

Presence of 10,000-ton freighter at Esquimalt drydock jetty yesterday made possible launching of 28-foot express cruiser Vanguard, as fierce wind lashed across harbor. Freighter served as ideal windbreaker as cruiser was lowered into water in calm provided by large ship's bow. Owners of cruiser are Jack and Alban Nelson. Launching ceremony, attended by large group, is depicted above.

SEAMEN SENTENCED

Two Canadian Seamen's Union members, convicted on charges of assaulting a police officer, yesterday were sentenced to three months in jail when they appeared in city police court at Vancouver.

Sentenced by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson were 25-year-old Sam Pretula and 25-year-old Roy Pitman, both of Vancouver. Charges of carrying offensive weapons—rocks in their pockets—were dismissed.

Both were arrested June 10 during an outbreak of violence on the waterfront here.

Know Your LIBERAL LEADERS

THE HONORABLE PAUL MARTIN

Born at Ottawa in 1903, the Honorable Paul Joseph Martin, K.C., is unusually youthful to be Minister of National Health and Welfare, even in a Government where youth is fast becoming a dominant characteristic. Brilliant and aggressive, he was educated at the Universities of Toronto, Harvard and Cambridge. He worked his way through Toronto University by piling lumber at $1.50 a day and by operating a window at a race track. Nor was his financial position improved when he went on to Osgoode Hall, Harvard and to Trinity College, Cambridge. This fact explains his keen enthusiasm for the Family Allowances Act.

He first attracted attention when he had an opportunity to accompany the Honorable Vincent Massey on a speaking tour for the League of Nations in 1933. For this good service, he was appointed a member of the Canadian delegation to the Assembly of the League at Geneva in 1938. In 1943 he was made assistant to the Minister of Labor, the Honorable Humphrey Mitchell, and represented his chief at the meeting of the International Labor Office in London in 1945. He was made Minister of Health in 1945.

His speeches demonstrate his wide intellectual fange and his keen, competent mastery of debate. He is highly ambitious for Canada. As Minister of National Health and Welfare, he has a well-earned reputation as legislator and administrator. Over two million dollars a day are spent by the Dominion for social security. Eighty per cent of this sum is paid by the Federal Government in Family Allowances. Paul Martin is the man who fought for Family Allowances!

Prospectors Get List of Clues For Uranium Search on Island

Prospectors on the hunt for uranium, the raw material of atom bombs, will find Vancouver Island as good a place to look as anywhere in British Columbia.

Following two uranium discoveries in the province last year and the resultant increase in uranium prospecting, the Department of Mines has issued a mimeographed pamphlet on how to go about it.

Written by Mining Engineer John S. Stevenson, the pamphlet says the most definite advice that can be given to prospectors is where not to look for uranium. Its not likely to be found, for example, in the lava fields of the Interior or the sedimentary rocks of the Rocky Mountains.

MOST LIKELY PLACE

Most likely place is in the batholith belt of the Coast Range, where both discoveries were made last year, one at Hazelton and the other near Bridge River. The same rock structure is found on Vancouver Island, Mr. Stevenson notes, and uranium is just as likely to be found here.

Although uranium occurs in various ores it is most likely to be found in pitchblende or uraninite in British Columbia.

He continues: "In this a prospector may be guided by the appearance of weathered outcroppings containing these minerals. The brilliantly colored, yellow, powder-like mineral carnotite found along cracks of joints in outcrops indicates the presence of primary uranium mineralization, and all rock outcrops containing any sign of this yellow powder should be carefully examined for pitchblende or uraninite.

NOT ALL FROM URANIUM

"It must be remembered, however, that not all yellow powders or films are derived from uranium minerals." Molybdenite and stibnite were two minerals which carried a yellow coating.

Another clue to the presence of uranium, the pamphlet said, comes from the common occurrence of pitchblende and uraninite in deposits containing cobalt and nickel. The weathered surfaces of cobalt have a pink coating known as cobalt bloom and nickel metals carry a green coating.

"All outcrops showing any sign whatsoever of yellow pink or green-ish mineralization as crusts or films on the surface or in cracks, should be tested further for uranium with a Geiger counter," the pamphlet suggests.

Set Minimum Wage In Pipe-Fitting Trade

Minimum wage of $1 an hour was established for the pipe-fitting trade in an order in council in the British Columbia Gazette yesterday.

Overtime pay was set at one-and-a-half times the regular rate for all work in excess of eight hours a day or 44 hours a week.
